Viewers who know Jason Segel from his comedic work in "How I Met Your Mother" or "Forgetting Sarah Marshall" will find him in unfamiliar and somewhat otherworldly territory in an anthology series debuting this week on AMC.

In "Dispatches From Elsewhere," a 10-hour series premiering Sunday, March 1, Segel stars as Peter, a 40-ish Philadelphian feeling like something is missing from his uber-mundane life. Answering an ad on a flier, he's summoned to the mysterious Jejune Institute, where he encounters its imperious founder, Octavio (Richard E. Grant, "Can You Ever Forgive Me?"), who exhorts to Peter that he is indeed special and destined for more. Moved to tears, Peter buys in wholeheartedly and soon meets other unfulfilled souls.

Among them are Simone (Eve Lindley, "Outsiders"), a trans woman with a fear of intimacy and feelings of not belonging; Fredwynne (Andre Benjamin, "Jimi: All Is by My Side"), a man of great obsessions; and Janice (Sally Field, "Forrest Gump"), an older woman feeling lost following her husband's death. All are seeking direction in life and all have a belief in "the magic."

The story is the brainchild of Segel, who based it on an actual social experiment that took place in San Francisco a decade ago, in which, among other activities, participants searched for a missing fictional girl. In "Dispatches," that girl's name is Clara.

"My starting point was: Who pulls a flier and why?" Segel explains. "And I was really interested in picking four season premiere, April 8) Back in the network's prime-time slot for the first time in more than a decade, Jimmy Kimmel steps in to take over the hosting duties for this revival of special episodes. Airing during its 20th anniversary year, the show features celebs competing for charity. Game changes include a play-along app that allows viewers to compete for the same cash prize as the celebs on the show.

"Run" (HBO — series premiere, April 12) A woman's humdrum life gets turned upside down when she receives a text from her college sweetheart inviting her to drop everything and meet him in New York to fulfill the pact they made 17 years earlier. Merritt Wever ("Godless," "Nurse Jackie") and Domhnall Gleeson ("Star Wars: The Rise of Skywalker") star in this comedy series that also features Phoebe Waller-Bridge ("Fleabag").

versions of isolation, feeling separate, feeling like 'the other,' and slowly bringing them together until we realize that we're all the same. And so that's where I came up with these four characters. And at that point, I knew how to write a love story. It's something I'm good at."

The first four episodes are dedicated to each of the characters, with the opener, "Peter," introducing him to viewers and eventually Simone, with whom a mutual attraction quickly develops. Lindley, a trans actress, had never before seen a trans character portrayed as a love interest and so was intrigued by that storyline and what she considered a well-rounded character.

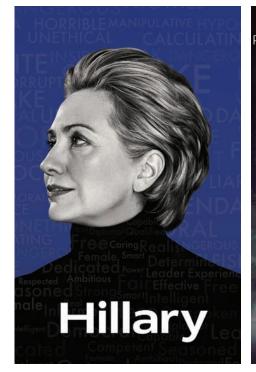

"I was so, like, moved by the fact that it was one of the best depictions of a trans character that I had ever read," she says. "She felt so close to me and I felt like I knew her and I felt like I could tell her story. And it was really great because Jason allowed me to interject a lot of myself into her, and you know, we really worked together to bring her to life, I think."

Another character in the story is the city of Philadelphia, which Segel says he chose for its juxtaposition of urban beauty and grit.

"Philly stood out because the show was about finding the beauty in unexpected places," he says. "... But it also has more murals than any other city in the country. It's one of the most art-laden cities that I've ever been to and it felt like the exact metaphor of our show. The beauty is just all around you, down every alleyway but you walk by it every day.'

Violence

A fugitive story with some differences, this intense drama from director Melina Matsoukas and writer Lena Waithe ("The Chi") pairs two people on a date that turns unforgettable for all the wrong reasons. Played by Daniel Kaluuya ("Get Out") and Jodie Turner-Smith, their evening isn't going well when it becomes much worse via the man's self-defense killing of a police officer who stopped the couple for a traffic matter. They then go on the run, but what happened is visible to numerous people via a viral video – and as the two forge a bond that grows ever deeper, others view them as symbols of what the racial aspect of society is today. Bokeem Woodbine, Chloe Sevigny, Flea (of music's Red Hot Chili Peppers) and country music's Sturgill Simpson also appear. DVD extras: four "making-of"

Simpson also appear. DVD extras: four "making-of" documentaries; audio commentary by Matsoukas and Waithe. * (Also on Blu-Ray, 4K Ultra HD and On Demand)

"DARK WATERS"

Director Todd Haynes' ("Far From Heaven") fact-inspired, superbly cast drama features Mark Ruffalo (a producer of the picture as well) in the type of role he excels at, a lawyer drawn into a case alleging that a major corporation is involved in several deaths in West Virginia. His probe eventually suggests that chemical dumping has occurred at a farm, and that he and his pregnant wife (Anne Hathaway) might even be at risk from the alleged pollutants ... due to man-made chemicals that accrue in the human blood stream over years and apparently can cause cancer and other

"SEVEN WORLDS, ONE PLANET"

The "worlds" actually are the continents of Earth in the case of this BBC-produced nature miniseries recently televised by BBC America (as well as its sister networks AMC, IFC and Sundance TV). Narrated by genre staple David Attenborough, the program about the various regions' atmospheres and their roles in helping to develop animal life proved to be sadly timely, since the episode about Australia was moved up to be the premiere in response to the devastating wildfires there. Film crews that went to the featured areas for the series focused on capturing rare footage not only on the surface, but also in such locales as underground caves and underwater pyramids ... and though drones were used, the technology didn't always work perfectly, as viewers are able to see. $\star \star \star$ (Not rated) (Also on Blu-Ray and 4K Ultra HD) "VIENNA BLOOD"

Just after concluding its telecasts on PBS, this melodrama inspired by Frank Tallis novels – and adapted by Steve Thompson "Penny Dreadful") also serving as creator, writer and executive producer here.

"Snowpiercer" (TBS — series premiere, May 31)

Set more than seven years after the world has become a frozen wasteland, this series centers on the remaining people, who inhabit a gigantic, perpetually-moving train that circles the globe. Jennifer Connelly, Daveed Diggs and Alison Wright ("The Americans") star in the drama series that has already been renewed for Season 2 ahead of its premiere.

("Sherlock") – makes its home-video debut, teaming one of legendary psychoanalyst Sigmund Freud's disciples (played by Matthew Beard) with a rather traditional police detective (Juergen Maurer) who isn't particularly a fan of his new partner's deeply cerebral approach to solving several murders in turn-of-the-century Vienna. The Austrian society of the time also has an effect on their investigations, with anti-Semitism as one of the factors they must contend with. Co-produced by Austrian and German television outlets, the series is divided into three two-part stories. (Not rated: AS, V)

"STYLE QUEENS: TAYLOR SWIFT"

There's little question that one of music's reigning megastars has developed her own sense of style over the years, and this profile of her focuses largely on her fashion choices. Some of them are feline-inspired, and the recent reception (or lack thereof) to the movie version of "Cats" -in which Swift was featured -- might be giving her mixed feelings about that attire now, but it remains an element of the visual appearance that has contributed to her fame. So does the progression she made, also covered here, as her musical attention shifted from country to a more general sound. This is part of a series featuring a different celebrity per release, with Jennifer Lopez slated to be showcased in the next one at the end of March. $\star \star \star$ (Not rated)

It was arguably the game of the year.

In their Feb. 8 road game against longtime rival North Carolina, Duke rallied from 13 points down in the final 4 1/2 minutes of regulation to tie it at the buzzer on Tre Jones' fadeaway jumper then won it on Wendell Moore Jr.'s putback of Jones' airball as time expired in overtime to give the No. 7 Blue Devils a hard-earned 98-96 win.

It was yet another chapter in the history of one of college basketball's fiercest rivalries, one in which Jones played a starring role by scoring 15 straight points at the end of regulation. Duke head coach Mike Krzyzewski had nothing but superlatives to offer about his point guard after the game.

"Tre was magnificent," Coach K said. "It was his best game." For the season, too, the 20-year-old sophomore from Apple Valley, Minn., has been very solid, averaging nearly 16 points per game on 44 percent shooting, to go with 6.6 assists, 2.0 steals and a three-point percentage of about 33. He's the floor leader and leading scorer on a Blue Devils team vying with Louisville and Florida State for the top spot in the ACC (as of mid-February) and primed for a run to the Final Four in March.

He and the Blue Devils will again meet up with the Tar Heels Saturday, March 7, when they close out the regular season against their archrivals at Cameron Indoor Arena in a game airing on ESPN.

tasty tv BY GEORGE DICKIE Chefs vie for a career-making job on 'Vegas Chef Prizefight'

Imagine cooking for hungry Las Vegas diners ready to pay top dollar for your first-class creations, all in front of TV cameras and lights. Those are the challenges and pressure faced by contestants on Food Network's latest competition series "Vegas Chef Prizefight."

Premiering Thursday, March 5, the six-episode series tasks eight elite chefs of disparate backgrounds and culinary viewpoints with arguably the toughest job interview they'll ever face, doing dinner service at different restaurants in the Caesars Entertainment realm to prove they have the talent, leadership and determination to run a high-profile restaurant in Las Vegas, one of the world's greatest foodie cities.

The winner – as determined by host Anne Burrell, chef Scott Conant, Caesars Entertainment executive Eileen Moore and rotating guest judges – lands a job as head chef at the newly created $10 million restaurant at the Flamingo on the famed Strip.

"This is a dream job for somebody," Burrell explains, "I mean, a brand new restaurant, you get to be a part of it from the beginning. ... I don't know but I think (this is) one of the biggest stakes that Food Network has ever put on a show like this."

"They're going to be really involved in making the menu," she continues, "and they will have some input on what the design of the restaurant looks like. I mean, they are really in it. It's a big job."

And to do a job like this means having a diverse skillset. In addition to being a talented chef and expert handler of pressure, the successful candidate needs to be good teacher, a good listener and a good cheerleader. They also need to know when to deliver a pat on the back or kick in the backside when needed, just as any good manager does.

To demonstrate that, they'll do live dinner service at such varied Sin City eateries as Mr. Chow, BLT Steak at Bally's, El Burro Borracho at Rio and Giada at The Cromwell. In each instance, Burrell says diners were well aware they were part of a Food Network production.

And while Burrell was reluctant to give hints on challenges or the outcome, she does allow that nerves did play a part at first but dropped away as the competition progressed.

"It was really nice to see, after we got a couple of weeks into the process, people really start to be comfortable and showing us what they can do as cooks," she says. "You know, once you get past all the nerves, once you peel all of the noise away around the whole process and people really settle in and put their heads down, it got really exciting."

"ZeroZeroZero"

From the makers of "Gomorrah" comes this drama series that looks at international cocaine trafficking and its economic and political effects in a story that encompasses chart family dynamics, Mexican cartels, the Calabrian mafia and corrupt businessmen. Harold Torres ("Sin Nombre"), Giuseppe De Domenico ("Euphoria"), Francesco Colella ("Made In Italy") and Tcheky Karyo ("Nikita") star. (ORIGINAL)

"Counterpart"

Both seasons of this critically acclaimed though low-rated sci-fi drama about a hapless U.N. employee (J.K. Simmons) caught in a cold war between parallel dimensions comes to the streaming service. Olivia Williams, Harry Lloyd and Nazanin Boniadi also star.

"Movie: Emergency Landing"

From director Rodney L. Cherry ("Pharaoh's Bread") comes this 2016 drama movie about several couples whose relationships are tested when the specter of infidelity rears its head. Renee Carillo ("Sinner City"), Brian Fecteau ("Pharaoh's Bread"), Mylarah Silverne ("MUDA When Time Is All That Matters") and Kevin D. Benton ("Delaware Shore") star.

"Movie: American Ultra"

From director Nima Nourizadeh ("Project X") comes this 2015 action comedy movie about a former CIA agent and current West Virginia slacker/stoner (Jesse Eisenberg) who is targeted for elimination by his ex-employer because he knows too much about a discontinued top-secret program. Kristen Stewart, Topher Grace, Connie Britton, Walton Goggins and John Leguizamo are also in the talented cast.
