Betty Broderick exacts marital fury in second 'Dirty John' series

As the adage says, hell hath no fury like a woman scorned ... and Betty Broderick is a textbook

Played by Meredith Baxter in two early-1990s TV-movies, Broderick famously wrought vengeance on her San Diego-lawyer husband Dan after he left her for another woman. What initially seemed like immature vandalism eventually became something much more lethal, and the true story gets a new and very detailed dramatization over the eight episodes of the second season of "Dirty John," which USA Network debuts Tuesday, June 2 (after the first, podcast-inspired "Dirty John" series ran on Bravo).

Amanda Peet ("Brockmire," "Togetherness") and Tiera Skovbye ("Riverdale") portray Betty at different ages, as she supports Dan (Christian Slater, returning to USA after his "Mr. Robot" run) through his medical and legal schooling and the starts of their family and his career. The union disintegrates rather rapidly once he meets Linda Kolkena (Rachel Keller, "Legion"), prompting Betty to strike back - a situation that ultimately results in a double homicide.

Playing Broderick as alternately high-spirited and desperate, and sometimes both at once, Peet says that the project gives "a very complex psychological portrait that allows for the idea that there probably was mental illness, but also that there were incidents in the marriage and the legal system made it very difficult for her to remain healthy."

The Betty Broderick-themed season of "Dirty John" boasts an all-female team of directors, including its writer and executive producer, Alexandra Cunningham. Peet admits that she didn't know much about Broderick before reading Cunningham's teleplay, "and I think that was probably a good thing. It seemed to me to just be an intimate portrait of someone who, after so many years of suffering, sort of snapped.'

Depicting that required Peet and Slater to be very much in sync, with the series' timeline going back and forth continually. "I just can't rave about him enough," she says. "Besides being a brilliant actor, he's a class act as a human being, really fun and so considerate. I can't believe he's been a star for this long and is so thoughtful and kind ... no offense to anyone else!"

After writing two stage plays, Peet currently is working with her writer-producer husband David Benioff ("Game of Thrones") on Netflix's forthcoming, Sandra Ohstarring university comedy-drama "The Chair." Peet co-created it and is doing the bulk of its scripts, but she's still grateful to land acting parts including Betty Broderick (who has been denied parole three times, and is next eligible in 2032).

"To have a role like this at age 48 is a gift and an honor," Peet reflects. "And the fact that Alexandra picked me for it still blows my mind."

"Father Soldier Son" (Netflix — Documentary premiere, June 19)
From filmmakers Leslye Davis ("The Power of Gold") and Catrin Einhorn ("A Year at War") comes this 2020 documentary that follows the iourney of Sat. First Class Brian Eisch, who is critically wounded in Afghanistan, thus setting him and his sons on a path of love, loss, redemption and legacy.

What's Available NOW On

The Story of Soaps

"Movie: The Lodge"

Riley Keough ("The Girlfriend Experience") stars as a woman who tries to build a better relationship with her fiance's wary children by spending the weekend with them at a remote cabin. But when he has to leave them in her care, some strange and frightening events take place in this 2019 horror movie. Lia McHugh and Richard Armitage are also in the cast.

"The Happy Days of Garry Marshall"

Writer-producer-director Garry Marshall, who died at age 81 in 2016, is fondly remembered by family and friends in this two-hour ABC special, which celebrates Marshall's remarkable career as the creator behind such pop-culture TV hits as "Happy Days," "Laverne & Shirley" and "Mork & Mindy," as well as such movie blockbusters as "Pretty Woman" and "The Princess Diaries."

"The Story of Soaps"

There currently are only four network daytime dramas on TV, but this oncethriving genre broke new ground in serialized storytelling that propels modern "binge-worthy" dramas. That proud soap legacy is celebrated in this two-hour ABC special, which features archival commentary from such soap pioneers as Agnes Nixon and newer interviews with actors including Jon Hamm, Susan Lucci, Alec Baldwin, Carol Burnett and Bryan Cranston, among others.

"Movie: We Are Freestyle Love Supreme"

Long before attaining international acclaim in "Hamilton," Lin-Manuel Miranda was in a hip-hop improvisational group called Freestyle Love Supreme along with director Thomas Kail and performers Christopher Jackson and Anthony Veneziale. For this documentary, filmmaker Andrew Fried began chronicling their journey in 2005 and then their reunion 14 years later in a series of shows in New York that led to a triumphant run on Broadway. "The Twilight Zone" (CBS All Access — season premiere, June 25)

The Jordan Peele-hosted reboot is ready to travel to another dimension for its new 10-episode second season, which will be available all at once. The guest cast will include Jenna Elfman, Topher Grace, Tony Hale, Gillian Jacobs, Joel McHale, Chris Meloni, Gretchen Mol and Damon Wayans Jr., among others.

2020 BET Awards (BET - new special, June 28)

The annual ceremonies celebrating African-Americans and other American minorities in music, acting, sports and other fields of entertainment over the past year air live in most markets from Los Angeles, although certain facets of the event are still pending due to the pandemic. Among this year's field of nominees, Angela Bassett, Billy Porter, Lizzo, Regina King and Tyler Perry compete for Entertainer of the Year. In music, Ari Lennox, Lil Nas X, Lucky Daye, Mahalia and Mykal Kilgore are up for best new artist.

"WATCHMEN: AN HBO LIMITED SERIES"

After the success of the graphic novel and a live-action movie, the saga of vigilantes operating in an alternate world got weekly-show treatment in this well-received version executive-produced by Damon Lindelof ("Lost," "The Leftovers"). It's actually a sequel to the comic book, moved ahead to the present day with Oscar winner Regina King leading the notable acting ensemble as a Tulsa police detective trying to balance her obligation to protect the city with her home life as a married mother of three. If that sounds like a fairly standard setup, the result is anything but that, thanks to the premise - which strongly factors in a racial undercurrent - and the other characters who populate the series. Also in the cast are Jeremy Irons,

Don Johnson, Jean Smart, Louis Gossett Jr., Frances Fisher and James Wolk. Though this was planned as a one-shot limited series, the possibility of a continuation remains, dependent on Lindelof's willingness to stay with the project. *** (Not rated: AS, P, V)

"JAWS: 45TH ANNIVERSARY LIMITED EDITION"

Hard as it might be to believe, it was almost 50 years ago that a Great White shark first attacked fun-seekers at Amity Island ... and put Steven Spielberg on the map as a major filmmaker. This latest home-video release of the suspense classic marks the picture's debut in the 4K Ultra HD format, as it adapts Peter Benchley's novel that sends a sheriff (played by Roy Scheider), a shark expert (Richard Dreyfuss) and a crusty shark hunter (Robert Shaw) out to sea on the trail of the very hungry creature. John Williams' Oscar-winning score is enduringly famous for its simple but hugely effective combination of notes warning that the enemy is coming. Co-stars include Lorraine Gary (then the wife of the head of Universal Pictures) as Scheider's spouse, and Murray Hamilton as arguably the most ineffective and oddly attired mayor in movie history. The many extras include several "making-of" documentaries carried over from earlier video editions of the film. *** (PG: AS, N, P, V)

"STAR TREK: SHORT TREKS"

The title is quite self-explanatory in the case of this collection of entries in the short-subject series that was launched by CBS All Access to coincide with - and expand upon - "Star Trek: Discovery." Cast members including Anson Mount, Ethan Peck, Rebecca Romijn, Doug Jones and Rainn Wilson appear in their roles from the main show (for Peck, that part being the iconic Spock), diving deeper into their respective characters than "Discovery" sometimes has been able to. Each of the standalone stories has a correlating and new "making-of" documentary here, featuring such talents as executive producers Alex Kurtzman and Jenny Lumet, writer Michael Chabon and composer Michael Giacchino. ★★★ (Not rated: AS) (Also on

"HARLEY QUINN: THE COMPLETE FIRST SEASON"

The title DC Comics character has had a big workout lately, thanks to two movies in which she was played by Margot Robbie, and also to this decidedly adult animated series made for the DC Universe streaming service. In what was her first major project after "The Big Bang Theory," Kaley Cuoco supplies the voice for the dangerously independent Harley, who assembles her own crew of questionable purpose after she separates from The Joker. Diedrich Bader ("American Housewife") and James Wolk ("Zoo") are heard as Batman and Superman respectively, and additional members of the impressive voice cast include Lake Bell ("Bless This Mess"), Jason Alexander, Tony Hale ("Veep"), Alan Tudyk, J.B. Smoove, Giancarlo Esposito, Rhea Perlman, Sean Giambrone ("The Goldbergs"), Sanaa Lathan, Wanda Sykes and Alfred Molina. *** (Not rated: AS, P, V)

"EXPEDITION WITH STEVE BACKSHALL: SEASON ONE"

Dangerous treks are all in a day's work for adventurer Backshall, who's more or less England's answer to Bear Grylls, in this PBS series that comes to home video just after finishing its broadcast run. Backshall manages to make his way out of some harrowing situations ... and very particularly in the case of a subterranean cavern rapidly filling with water, which makes for some extremely tense and intense footage. The aim is to explore areas of the world that remained untouched by people until Backshall and his associates ventured there, with the Himalayas and the arctic among the destinations. The indigenous people and wildlife of the showcased regions are featured. *** (Not

ASCAR and its fan history

While NASCAR is returning to the track and racing live, the drivers will have to race without the spectacle of a live audience. But race fans can still tune in to cheer on their favorite drivers this weekend at Briston Motor Speedway in Bristol, Tennessee.

bogeygrille.com DELIVERY • TAKEOUT • GIFT CARDS • RESERVATIONS

Whether filling the stands in person or watching on television, NASCAR fans are drawn to the action and the sport's storied history.

It is believed that what would ultimately evolve into car racing began during Prohibition times when "runners," or those who delivered moonshine, souped up their cars to evade federal tax agents. These runners took pride in evading the law and would hold informal races to determine who had the fastest car and greatest racing chops. Eventually the need for smuggling booze waned, and car racing became a more respectable sport.

On February 21, 1948, the National Association for Stock Car racing was officially incorporated, although the first official NASCAR race took place six days earlier. The sport would go on to be one of the most popular spectator activities in North America and is now a multi-billion dollar industry.

NASCAR owes its beginnings to mechanic and auto-repair shop owner William "Bill" France, Sr. of Washington, D.C. France became interested in racing after relocating to Daytona Beach, which he discovered was a hotbed for racing enthusiasts. France involved himself in racing cars and promotion. France felt there should be a sanctioning body to govern the sport, so in 1947, he organized a meeting in Florida to discuss the future of stock car racing and conceived the notion of NASCAR with other members of the racing community.

As NASCAR amassed its legions of fans, it also helped solidify the star status of many drivers. Richard Petty, David Pearson, Dale Earnhardt Sr. (and later Junior), Jimmie Johnson and Jeff Gordon are just a few of the notable drivers who have torn up tracks.

Keith Hernandez - From ballfield to "Seinfeld" and back

He may be known best from his guest-starring role in "Seinfeld," but Keith Hernandez took center stage in one of the most memorable moments in New York Mets and perhaps even postseason history.

The scene: Game 6 of the 1986 NL Championship Series, bottom of the 16th inning, the Mets leading the Houston Astros 3-2 in the series and 7-6 in the game at the Astrodome. With a runner on second and two out, the Astros' most consistent hitter, Mike Bass, stepped to the plate. A meeting ensued on the pitcher's mound, where first baseman Hernandez had pointed words for teammate Gary Carter.

"Kid, if you call another fastball," he told his catcher, "I'm going to come to home plate and we're going to have to fight."

No fisticuffs were necessary, as it turned out, as Mets pitcher Jesse Orosco threw a steady diet of sliders to Bass, who swung and missed at the third strike, thus ending an excruciating afternoon and quashing the possibility of the Mets facing an unhittable future Cy Young winner Mike Scott in Game 7. The Mets would head to the World Series and another fight to the death, this time with the Boston Red Sox.

As for Hernandez, he would finish out the decade in New York before one last injury-riddled season with the Cleveland Indians in 1990. He's dabbled in acting since then with appearances in the series "Law & Order," "Billions" and "Seinfeld" and the movies "The Scout," "The Yards" and "Barracuda." But he is known to Mets fans these days as one of the TV voices of the Mets on Sportsnet New York.

He and the Mets can be seen in action on that interminable October afternoon when ESPN Classic airs a replay of Game 6 of the '86 NLCS on Sunday, May 31.

TV dining - A feast of restaurant sitcoms and dramas

Going out to eat is one of life's great pleasures. Whether it's fine dining, a quick burger or something in between, there is something about being out and dining on food made by others that is an utterly satisfying experience. And the fact that people are waiting on you helps, too.

These days, however, that favorite American pastime has fallen by the wayside, the victim of the pandemic that has forced closures of restaurants. But let's not dwell on that. Instead, let's live vicariously through our televisions, watching series set in and around restaurants, where people are out and about and enjoying themselves – just as we hope to be soon.

"Alice" (1976-85, CBS): Based on the 1974 film "Alice Doesn't Live Here Anymore," this long-lived sitcom starred Linda Lavin in the title role of a widow who with her young son relocates to the Phoenix area and takes a job as a waitress at a greasy spoon called Mel's Diner. Polly Holiday, who's character Flo coined the catchphrase "kiss my grits!" also starred along with Vic Tayback, Beth Howland and Philip McKeon.

"Cheers" (1982-93, NBC): Yes, the meals consumed here were more liquid in nature but the Boston bar "where everybody knows your name" was a ratings dynamo for many years and a fixture at the Emmys and Golden Globes. It also gave big boosts to the careers of Ted Danson, Shelley Long, Kelsey Grammer, Woody Harrelson and Kirstie Alley and was just a downright friendly place to spend 30 minutes on a Thursday night.

"Tattinger's" (1988-89, NBC): This well-reviewed hour drama about a popular New York eatery had the acting talent (Stephen Collins, Blythe Danner, Jerry Stiller) and the production lineage (the "St. Elsewhere" team of Tom Fontana, John Masius and Bruce Paltrow) but couldn't translate that into ratings and thus disappeared after one season.

"Party Down" (2009-10, Starz): Adam Scott, Jane Lynch, Lizzy Caplan and Ken Marino headed the talented cast of this underrated sitcom about a group of Los Angeles actors, writers and lost souls working part-time gigs as caterers while waiting for their big break in Hollywood.

"Bob's Burgers" (2011-present, Fox): Loren Bouchard, mentor of the current "Central Park," created this animated comedy that follows the adventures of the Belcher family, who own and operate a burger joint in an unnamed seaside community. A perennial contender at the Emmys, the show's voice cast includes H. Jon Benjamin, Dan Mintz, John Roberts and Kristen School

"Fresh Off the Boat" (2015-20, ABC): Before she rose to stardom in "Crazy Rich Asians," Constance Wu was in the ensemble of this recently concluded sitcom about a Taiwanese-American family who run a cowboy-themed restaurant in Orlando, Fla., in the late '90s. Randall Park, Hudson Yang and Forrest Wheeler also starred.

What's Available NOW On prime video

"Alias"

Amazon streams all five seasons of this 2001-06 ABC action series, which was created by J.J. Abrams and stars Jennifer Garner as Sydney Bristow, recruited out of college to be an international spy before becoming a double agent for the CIA. The strong cast also includes Victor Garber, Ron Rifkin, Michael Vartan, Bradley Cooper and Carl Lumbly.

"Poldark"

Originally airing on BBC One in the U.K. before being broadcast in the states on PBS, this 2015-19 British historical drama stars Aidan Turner in the lead role of Captain Ross Vennor Poldark, who returns home to England in 1783 from three years fighting in the American Revolution to find his father has died, his estate is in ruins and his sweetheart is engaged to his cousin. Eleanor Tomlinson, Jack Farthing and Beatie Edney also star in this series, all five seasons of which are available here.

"The Lucy Show"

Five years removed from the trailblazing success of "I Love Lucy," Lucille Ball returned to CBS in this 1962-68 sitcom in which she starred as a woman left a substantial trust fund by her late husband and the bank manager (Gale Gordon) annoyed by the harebrained schemes for which she used the money. The series also reunited Ball with "I Love Lucy" co-star Vivian Vance.

"Bonanza"

The inaugural season of this iconic 1959-73 NBC Western series about the wealthy Cartwright family of Virginia City, Nev., comes to the streaming service with Lorne Greene, Michael Landon, Dan Blocker, Pernell Roberts Victor Sen Yung heading the large (and changing) cast.
