If Hugh Laurie's latest television role echoes his long run as Dr. Gregory House, he maintains he didn't intend it.

The British talent portrays an ethically sketchy politician in "Roadkill on Masterpiece," a BBC-produced drama debuting on the PBS anthology series Sunday, Nov. 1 (check local listings). Written by the esteemed David Hare ("Plenty"), the four-part tale finds Laurie's Peter Laurence barely keeping the approval of England's prime minister (Helen McCrory, "Peaky Blinders") after he wins a libel suit. He also must deal with his wife's (Saskia Reeves) and daughters' (Millie Brady and "Elementary's" Ophelia Lovibond) discovery of his affair with a librarian (Sidse Babett Knudsen, "Borgen"). Iain De Caestecker, ("Marvel's Agents of S.H.I.I.E.L.D.") also stars.

The wry Laurie appreciates exposing Laurence's nature slowly in "Roadkill." He says, "it may actually be in my nature anyway to not reveal too much too soon. I think it has become a sort of necessity nowadays, in the selling of a story, that you have to declare to the audience what your story's going to be. Sometimes in the form of a trailer, you have to say, 'Good guy, bad guy, traitor, existential threat' ... whatever it is. You have to lay out your wares very quickly. "It was a challenge, but also a luxury, to have the four hours in which to gradually reveal all of these characters," notes Laurie. "I think it is an amazing cast, and it was wonderful to watch all of them - under Michael's (Keillor) direction, and with David's wonderful script - reveal themselves piece by piece, rather than coming in with a trombone announcing themselves from the start."

Playwright Hare reflects of developing the "Roadkill" plot, "There used to be something called disgrace. When a politician did something wrong and was caught doing something wrong, there was usually meant to be calamity. Something was meant to follow, and now, nothing follows. I wanted to write about that, the change in politics whereby it's OK to do things and you have a fair chance of getting away with them on the likelihood that you resemble the people who vote for you."

As for any comparisons between House and Laurence, Laurie reasons, "There are some things I can't do anything about. I am the same height as Gregory House, and I am a little bit older. (With) anything I do, there are going to be moments or expressions or certain inflections that will possibly cause someone to remember something. Every actor goes through that. That's the nature of the thing. I feel as if I have had the opportunity to play what is, to me, a wonderful range of characters ... all of whom I like and enjoy."

"MAYANS M.C.: THE COMPLETE SECOND SEASON"

Executive producer Kurt Sutter's FX follow-up to his acclaimed, successful motorcycle-club drama "Sons of Anarchy" got a sophomore year that also turned out to be its last one. Would-be Mayans member Ezekiel "EZ" Reyes (played by JD Pardo) is caught between various factions by agreeing to inform for federal agents on the Galindo cartel, whose leader Miguel (Danny Pino) is married to EZ's ex-girlfriend Emily (Sarah Bolger). EZ's brother Angel (Clayton Cardenas) also works against the Galindos as a member of the Rebel group, and in the first season, the siblings were drawn into the murders of two agents to maintain their own agendas – an element that continues to unfold here. Sutter co-created the show, which also stars Edward James Olmos, with fellow executive producer Elgin James ... and given the grittiness of the content here, it's a bit strange to find it under the Disney banner, since that company now owns FX. $\star\star\star$ (Not rated: AS, P, V)

"ANTEBELLUM"

JD Pardo

Another of the recent movies that had its primary avenue to audiences via On Demand (though it also got some theatrical play internationally) as a result of the coronavirus pandemic, this melodrama now has the potential to reach additional viewers as it debuts on physical home media. Actresssinger Janelle Monae stars in the era-bridging story as an oppressed woman during the time of slavery who evidently is transported to the present day, where she is a sociologist also subjected to torment while promoting her new book. Jena Malone, Eric Lange, Jack Huston, Kiersey Clemons, Gabourey Sidibe and Lily Cowles ("Roswell, New Mexico") also are featured in the film, from writers and debuting directors Gerard Bush and

"If I Only Had Christmas" (Hallmark Channel TV movie premiere, Nov. 29)

This "Oz-some" holiday romance borrows from a beloved L. Frank Baum fantasy for inspiration, with Candace Cameron Bure ("Fuller House") starring as Darcy Gale, a midwestern publicist who comes to Emerald Educational Trust for what may be the job of a lifetime. She's there to help company vice president Glen Goodman (Warren Christie) and his

Christopher Renz. DVD extras: theatrical trailers; three "making-of" documentaries deleted scenes.  (R: AS, P, V) (Also on Blu-ray, 4K Ultra HD and On Demand)

"THE CROWN: THE COMPLETE THIRD SEASON"

One of the most acclaimed series of the streaming era puts forth its most recent round on home video, with the fourth one slated to debut on Netflix later this month. The life of Queen Elizabeth II (Olivia Colman, assuming the role from the earlier two seasons' Claire Foy, in a Golden Globe Award-winning portrayal) is dramatized from the mid-1960s to the mid-1970s, when such milestones as Prince Charles being installed as the Prince of Wales and Winston Churchill passing away had impacts on her reign ... en route to her Silver Jubilee celebration. Tobias Menzies (taking over the part of Prince Phillip), Helena Bonham Carter (inheriting the role of Princess Margaret) and Ben Daniels also are in the excellent cast of the saga created by Peter Morgan, who also focused on Elizabeth in his script for the Oscarwinning movie "The Queen." DVD extras: four "making-of" documentaries. * (Not rated: AS) (Also on Blu-ray)

"BLACKBIRD"

An impressive cast figures into director Roger Michell's ("Notting Hill") drama of a woman, team find the wisdom, courage and heart to help a charity in dire need as Christmas approaches.

"The Stand: Season 1" (CBS All Access — series premiere, Dec. 17)

This nine-episode limited series, based on the book by Stephen King, follows a post-apocalyptic world decimated by plague and embroiled in an elemental struggle between good and evil. The fate of mankind rests on the frail shoulders of 108-year-old Mother Abagail (Whoopi Goldberg) and a handful of survivors. Their worst nightmares are embodied in a man with a lethal smile and unspeakable powers. James Marsden and Greg Kinnear also star.

played by Susan Sarandon, who decides to end her struggle with Lou Gehrig's disease in her own way. She and her husband (Sam Neill) gather their loved ones for a final reunion, but the occasion takes unexpected turns ... especially as the woman realizes she has unfinished business with her daughters (Kate Winslet, Mia Wasikowska). Rainn Wilson and Lindsay Duncan also are featured. The fim is a remake of the Danish feature "Silent Heart."  (R: AS, P) (Also on Blu-ray and On Demand)

"MISBEHAVIOUR"

The title is exactly what a number of women are up to here, as they target the 1970 Miss World competition, in this fact-inspired and BBC-co-produced comedy-drama. Wanting to strike a very visible blow for women's liberation, the conspirators mapped out a plan to disrupt the event while a huge global audience was watching live. However, an even bigger surprise ultimately was in store when the winner of the title was named. Keira Knightley heads the cast, but arguably the most interesting acting aspect is watching Greg Kinnear attempt to channel Bob Hope, who was the host of the contest; Lesley Manville ("Phantom Thread") plays Hope's wife. Gugu Mbatha-Raw, Keeley Hawes, Phyllis Logan ("Downton Abbey") and Rhys Ifans also appear.  (Not rated: AS, P) (Also on Bluray and On Demand)

When the Tampa Bay Buccaneers signed Tom Brady to a two-year, $50 million contract back in the spring, critics argued the team would never get its money's worth. But four games into the 2020 season, no one is talking refund.

Indeed, with the Bucs sitting at 3-2 atop the NFC South, the 43-year-old quarterback has acquitted himself quite nicely in new surroundings and with a new supporting cast, looking every bit the field general who led the New England Patriots to six Super Bowl titles (four as game MVP), won three league MVP awards and was named to 14 Pro Bowls.

His best performance thus far in 2020 came in Week 4 against the Los Angeles Chargers. Trailing 24-7 with two minutes to go in the second quarter, Brady picked up the pace, throwing a six-yard TD strike to Mike Evans to close the half. Then in the second half, it was bombs away to lead the Bucs back from the 17-point deficit to a 38-31 victory. His 369 yards passing and five touchdowns were enough to get him his first NFC Offensive Player of the Week.

Through four games, Brady's numbers are solid if not impressive: 126 of 196 passes completed (a 64.3 percent rate) for 1,375 yards and 12 touchdowns. If there is one troubling stat, it's his four interceptions, which puts him on a pace to throw what would be a career-high 16 picks. But if he keeps the Bucs in the "W" column, no one will complain about a one INT-per-game rate.

Brady can be seen in action Monday, Nov. 2, when the Bucs visit the New York Giants in a game airing on ESPN.

tasty t√ BY GEORGE DICKIE Celebs take to the kitchen on 'Breakfast With Besser'

Foodies who like to take their culinary content on the go will want to check out a series currently running on a popular mobile app.

In "Breakfast With Besser" on Food Network Kitchen, host and chef Elena Besser ("The Best Thing I Ever Ate") honors the day's first meal by inviting on celebrity guests – be they Tony-winning Broadway stars such as André De Shields ("Hadestown") and James Monroe Iglehart ("Aladdin"), comedians like Dulcé Sloan and Chris Redd ("Saturday Night Live") and film actors like Lea DeLaria and Bowen Yang – and having them help prepare a breakfast that she created specifically for them.

"Our recipe development process comes from the research that we do for all of our guests," Besser explains. "So to us, getting a really great show in that short period of time requires a lot of research. So as soon as we found out what guests were booked, we dove deep into everything we could possibly learn about them."

So for instance for Redd, Besser – a Chicago native – created a dish that honors Redd's own Windy City upbringing – the Chicago-style breakfast biscuit egg sandwich.

"It combines every component of a Chicago-style hot dog into an ultimate breakfast biscuit sandwich ...," Besser notes. "And when I learned that he was from Chicago and that he loved biscuits and he loved eggs, I was like, 'We've got to turn this into an ultimate biscuit sandwich.' So it is a buttermilk biscuit with poppy seeds, white onion and sport peppers tossed throughout. It is celery salt-spiced scrambled eggs, griddle hot dogs, a relishwith-mustard special sauce and some sliced tomatoes on top."

If that sounds a little involved for the average kitchen novice – which a few of her guests are – Besser says that's by design.

"We definitely didn't want to make it too easy for the guest," she says. "We still wanted to make sure that all of the recipes were interesting and dynamic, and it was so exciting to watch someone that isn't comfortable in the kitchen create a biscuit. Like Chris had never made biscuits in his life ... but it was his first time making them and he did an excellent job.

"And that's really honestly the goal of our entire show," she continues, "is showcasing that if celebrities that you admire are able to cook these dishes, what's going to stop you from being able to make them, too? You can do it as well. And if you fail along the way, that's OK, we'll get through it together."

All recipes from "Breakfast With Besser" can also be found on the Food Network Kitchen app, which costs $4.99/month with the first 30 days free.
