'Big Sky' opens for ABC with premiere of serialized mystery

Television-producing veteran David E. Kelley has had successes in the worlds of cable and streaming, but he still has a soft spot for broadcast television.

Following "Big Little Lies," "Mr. Mercedes" and HBO's current "The Undoing," the "Ally McBeal," "The Practice" and "Picket Fences" alum is taking his latest project to ABC. Premiering Tuesday, Nov. 17, "Big Sky" adapts several related novels by C.J. Box by following the search for two sisters (played by Natalie Alyn Lind and Jade Pettyjohn) kidnapped from a Montana highway. Among the many other characters is a detective (Ryan Phillippe) who crosses paths with his ex-cop ex-wife (Katheryn Winnick, "Vikings") while working the case.

Also a writer of many "Big Sky" episodes, Kelley says that in adapting Box's "The Highway" into the show's main premise, "The biggest challenge for me was to be able to deliver what the book did ... and that is the tension, the thrill, the drama and the relational equations of the characters, which were rich and profound at times. It was a great ride, a great journey. And I'm hoping that particularly given the times, when (viewers) throw on the television at the end of the day, we will be able to deliver that sense of fun, drama, and escapism to them."

"Big Sky's" ensemble cast also includes Kylie Bunbury ("Pitch"), Brian Geraghty ("Chicago P.D."), Dedee Pfeiffer, Jesse James Keitel, Valerie Mahaffey and John Carroll Lynch ("American Horror Story"). Co-star Winnick vows that with all of the characters, "You'll see different layers of them as the series unfolds. The things that you least expect in a character end up shocking you, in a lot of different ways."

Playing a state trooper in "Big Sky," Lynch has been a series star for Kelley before ("The Brotherhood of Poland, New Hampshire"), and he maintains that he's been a fan ever since he visited friend Don Cheadle on the "Picket Fences" set. "Every single time I watch a David Kelley show, it is its own universe and it tackles its own question," Lynch reasons. "There's always humor. There's always heart. There's always an essential sense of humanity about each and every single universe that's created."

While there's never a guarantee that a serialized drama won't be canceled before it can play out fully, Kelley has built a safeguard into "Big Sky." He explains, "The structure of this show is that we will do four- or five-episode arcs, so if someone could only watch the first half of the season, there will be closure on one storyline. We kind of like that format as storytellers, because we cultivate and introduce an underlying story while we're going full guns on our 'A' story."

In Focus

"Your Honor" (Showtime — series premiere, Dec. 6)

When a respected New Orleans judge's son is involved in a hit-and-run, a highstakes game of lies, deceit and impossible choices is put into motion. The 10-episode legal thriller from executive producers Robert and Michelle King ("The Good Fight," "The Good Wife") stars Bryan Cranston ("Breaking Bad"), Peter Moffat ("The Night Of") and Hope Davis ("For the People").

What's Available NOW On

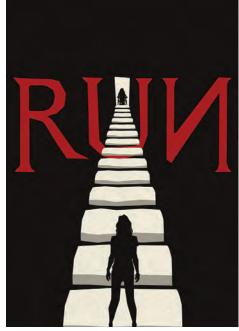

"No Man's Land"

The Syrian civil war is the backdrop for this eight-episode drama series about a young French man searching for his presumed-dead sister, who winds up joining forces with a unit of female Kurdish fighters as they travel in ISIS-occupied territory. Felix Moati, Mélanie Thierry and James Purefoy head the cast. (ORIGINAL)

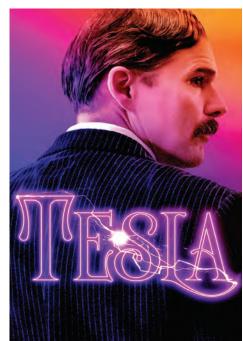

"Animaniacs"

Yakko, Wakko and Dot are back in this Steven Spielberg-produced 13-episode animated series that follows them as they run loose through Warner Bros. studios causing chaos and confusion. Also returning are Pinky and the Brain in their continued quest for world domination. Rob Paulsen, Tress MacNeille and Maurice LaMarche voice the title characters. (ORIGINAL)

"Movie: Run"

From writer/director Aneesh Chaganty and the creative team behind the 2018 movie drama"Searching" comes this thriller film about a girl (newcomer Kiera Allen) who runs away from home and the total isolation wrought on her by her control-freak mother (Sarah Paulson, "Ratched," "American Horror Story"). (ORIGINAL)

"Movie: Tesla"

Ethan Hawke ("The Good Lord Bird") has the title role in director Michael Almereyda's ("Experimenter," "Twister") freewheeling 2020 biographical drama about visionary inventor Nikola Tesla, his relationships with Thomas Edison (Kyle MacLachlan, "Twin Peaks") and J.P. Morgan's daughter Anne (Eve Hewson, "The Knick") and his breakthroughs in transmitting electrical power and light.

"THE NEW MUTANTS"

A new generation of X-Men (and X-Women) is introduced in this adventure, the final chapter in that Marvel franchise – though this isn't an official part of the Marvel Cinematic Universe - that was one of the first movies to attempt a theatrical run after so many theaters had been closed due to the coronavirus pandemic. Maisie Williams ("Game of Thrones"), Anya Taylor-Joy ("Glass"), Charlie Heaton ("Strange Things"), Blu Hunt and Henry Zaga play the specially gifted quintet who have to evade sinister forces that deem them dangerous as well as potentially valuable. Alice Braga ("Queen of the South") also stars as a doctor who acts as a counsel to the group. The film's release was delayed by such factors as Disney's acquisition of 20th Century Fox and planned reshoots that ultimately didn't happen. $\star \star \star$ (PG-13: AS, P, V) (Also on Blu-ray, 4K Ultra HD and On Demand)

"WESTWORLD - SEASON THREE: THE NEW WORLD"

One of the most popular and acclaimed series in HBO's current repertoire continued with this latest season, as the expansion of Michael Crichton's original movie concept takes the artificialintelligence-driven Dolores (Evan Rachel Wood) into the so-called "new world" ... that which exists outside the Delos amusement park, where she has lived her entire life under controlled supervision up to now. A new acquaintance ("Breaking Bad" alum Aaron Paul) showsher the potential for a fresh start, though she also observes the social status of those of her kind in that environment. Maeve and William (Thandie Newton, Ed Harris) also have different experiences as they venture out of the Westworld sector. Jeffrey Wright, Tessa Thompson, Vincent Cassel and Luke Hemsworth also star, with Rodrigo Santoro, Phoebe Tonkin ("The Originals"), Thomas Kretschmann, Katja Herbers ("Evil") and Gina Torres among guest stars.  (Not rated: AS, N, P, V) (Also on Blu-ray)

"WORDS ON BATHROOM WALLS"

Rising young actor Charlie Plummer ("All the Money in the World," "Looking for Alaska") continues his string of showcase projects with scavenger hunt but ultimately find the best gift is just spending quality time together.

"Dr. Pimple Popper" (TLC — season pre-miere, Dec. 28)

Pop-a-holics can reioice as this addictive series returns for its third season with cases so extreme, Dr. Sandra Lee teams up with other specialists to provide the best possible care for her patients. With the pandemic completely changing the face of doctor visits and increasing telemedi-cine appointments, the cases Dr. Lee addresses here were first introduced in "Before the Pop." which aired earlier this year.a

this seriocomic tale based on the same-named novel by John Walton. The protagonist is a highschool student deemed to be schizophrenic when he hears voices and sees the image of a young woman (AnnaSophia Robb) who doesn't appear to anyone else. As his mother and her boyfriend (Molly Parker, Walton Goggins) try to determine what to do about him, he forms an alliance with the smartest pupil in his class (Taylor Russell) to tutor him ... though that may turn out to be more. Andy Garcia, Beth Grant and Devon Bostick also are featured. DVD extras: theatrical trailer photo gallery.  (PG-13: AS, P) (Also on On Demand)

"IT'S A WONDERFUL LIFE"

One of the ultimate holiday classics has been issued in all sorts of home-video configurations over the years, director Frank Capra's popular drama gets new Steelbook treatment this year containing the original black-and-white version in 4K Ultra HD, a colorized edition on Blu-ray, and a miniature reproduction of a poster for the film. Upon its release, the 1946 picture had a lukewarm box-office performance that gave no indication it would become as popular as it long as it has been its plentiful television exposure being a huge factor. James Stewart makes the perfect George Bailey, the hapless Bedford Falls citizen whose experience of seeing how life would be without him has been echoed by countless TV-series episodes. Donna Reed, Lionel Barrymore and – as wing earning angel Clarence - Henry Travers lend great support. DVD extras: theatrical trailer; "making-of"

documentary. * (Not rated) (Also on Blu-ray)

"The Crown"

Season 4 advances the story to the late 1970s, when Queen Elizabeth (Olivia Colman) and the Royal Family are preoccupied with finding an appropriate bride for Prince Charles (Josh O'Connor), who is still unmarried at age 30. At the same time, divisiveness builds in Britain thanks to the policies of Margaret Thatcher (Gillian Anderson) and war with the Falkland Islands. (ORIGINAL)

"We Are the Champions" If you have a thing for unusual competitions, then this is the series for you. Each episode of this offering from executive producer Rainn Wilson (Dwight from "The Office") follows a unique competition and provides a window into determination, passion and skill of those who take part in sports such as cheese rolling, dog dancing and frog jumping. (ORIGINAL)

"Holiday Home Makeover With Mr. Christmas"

Design industry veteran Benjamin Bradley, aka "Mr. Christmas," puts his skills and vast Christmas collection to good use in this unscripted series, to bring holiday cheer to families and communities deserving of a home makeover. In the process, he hopes to inspire viewers to take their own home holiday decorating to the next level. (ORIGINAL)

"Sarah Cooper: Everything's Fine"

Author and comedian Sarah Cooper is the host of this hourlong variety special that uses vignettes to deal with politics, race, gender, class and other subjects. Special guests Fred Armisen, Marisa Tomei and Jon Hamm participate in short interviews, sketches and other mischief. (ORIGINAL)

sportsquiz BY GEORGE DICKIE ndianapolis Colts

1) In what year did the team begin play in the NFL as the Baltimore Colts?

2) In 1956, future Hall of Famer Johnny Unitas joined the Colts after being released by what NFL team?

3) In the landmark 1958 NFL Championship Game, what running back dove across the goal line in the closing seconds to give the Colts a 23-17 win over the New York Giants?

4) In 1965, what running back memorably filled in as emergency quarterback when Unitas and backup Gary Cuozzo were lost to seasonending injuries?

5) What future Hall of Famer was the Colts' coach when they were upset by the New York Jets in Super Bowl III?

6) What Colts quarterback was suspended for gambling in 1983?

7) In what year did the Colts execute their infamous "midnight move" to Indianapolis?

8) Who kicked a 32-yard field goal in the closing seconds that gave the Colts a 16-13 victory over the Dallas Cowboys in Super Bowl Va

9) In 1972, owner Carroll Rosenbloom "traded" the Colts and $3 million to Robert Irsay for what NFL franchise?

to his game. Indeed, the team that selects the 19-year-old former Illawarra Hawk of Australia's National Basketball League in the 2020 NBA Draft will be getting a player with an unusual

He may not be blessed with the physical gifts of your typical NBA point guard but LaMelo Ball has a lot of upside skill set that could play very well at the game's highest level. First and foremost, he's blessed with the kind of on-court vision that enables him to make Harlem Globetrotter-like passes to find the open shot. He's also a strong ball handler who can push the ball up court and take it into the lane with either hand, and he knows how to respond to defensive pressure. And at 6 feet 7 inches, he's big for a point and that can create some advantageous size mismatches.

As for his shot, it's funky and doesn't fall at a great rate but it is enough to keep defenses honest so that he can capitalize on his formidable playmaking skills. Though with experience, he could develop into a proficient 3-point shooter.

If there is a weakness to his game, it's his athleticism. His lack of strength and leaping ability make it harder for him to score in traffic and score over length. Also, his effort on defense is less than impressive, which could be a sticking point for any team thinking of taking him in the top 10.

He'll certainly find his new team Wednesday, Nov. 18, when ESPN presents a live broadcast of the 2020 NBA Draft from its studios in Bristol, Conn.

Kristin Chenoweth takes up residence in 'Candy Land'

With her knack for the high-spirited and the fanciful, Kristin Chenoweth has an ideal new television home in "Candy Land."

The Tony- and Emmy-winning singing and acting dynamo helps bring the classic game to life by hosting a Food Network competition series premiering Sunday, Nov. 15. The colorful sets are completely edible as players vie for a $25,000 grand prize by using ingredients found in such areas as Chocolate Mountain, the Peppermint Forest and the Lollipop Woods to create confections and advance along the game board en route to King Kandy's Castle. Nacho Aguirre and Aarti Sequeira are the judges who gauge their culinary efforts.

The ever-energetic Chenoweth says she's amused to be on Food Network now, since she attests, "I avoid my kitchen! I just don't go in there, so when they called me, I said, 'I don't know my lower oven from the upper one.' And they said, 'No, no, it's "Candy Land," We want you,' And I thought, 'Well, OK. This could be cool.' And I started to see pictures of the sets, and it reminded me of Broadway. And I thought, 'I need to be there.' "

Also enjoying her "fashion moment" with her haute-couture outfits for the show, Chenoweth cheerfully admits that since her "Candy Land" surroundings actually can be eaten, she's fought to control her cravings. "There is a river of real chocolate," she reports, "and what's the first thing you want to do when you see that? You want to stick your finger in it. And since I've never done a reality competition before, I didn't realize there were cameras everywhere. And the next thing I knew, it was in the show."

Despite the quieter period brought on by the coronavirus pandemic, the strongly work-oriented Chenoweth now seems to be everywhere again. In addition to having recently released movies on HBO Max ("The Witches") and Netflix ("Holidate"), her "Orphans of God" duet single with country star Ty Herndon debuted in late October. She also will lead a two-year Masterclass program in screen acting for her alma mater, Oklahoma City University, that begins in January.

Even with all that activity, "Candy Land" in particular is giving Chenoweth professional and personal fun at a time when she especially welcomes it.

"I'm like everybody," she reflects. "I have the days when I think, 'Are we ever going to be "normal" again? And what will that look like?' I had just started up my tour for 'For the Girls' (her female-artist tribute album) and then it got stopped (by the pandemic), so I was like a horse at the gate, ready to go. I think that when we come back, we're going to be stronger and better."

"James May: Oh Cook!"

He's an English TV presenter and a journalist, not a cook. But former "Top Gear" host James May is determined to prove that you don't need to be a brilliant chef to prepare delicious food, and in this series he'll demonstrate recipes you can make in your own kitchen with ingredients that are readily available — and without the usual TV trickery. (ORIGINAL)

"Small Axe"

From filmmaker Steve McQueen ("Hunger") comes this anthology series of films set from the late 1960s to the mid-1980s, each telling personal stories from London's West Indian community, whose lives have been shaped by their sheer will despite rampant racism and discrimination. The first film "Mangrove" stars Shaun Parkes ("The Mummy Returns") as the owner of a Caribbean restaurant in Notting Hill. (ORIGINAL)

"The Pack"

Dog lovers will want to take a look at this adventure series in which 12 teams of canines and their human companions compete in an epic trek across multiple continents, with the winning tandem receiving $500,000 and $250,000 for an animal charity. Olympic gold medal skier Lindsey Vonn and her dog Lucy are the hosts. (ORIGINAL)
