We've all imagined what a human soul might look like. But Disney+ makes it the centerpiece of a storyline in an animated film that begins streaming Christmas Day, Friday, Dec. 25.

In "Soul," we are introduced to Joe Gardner (voice of Jamie Foxx, "Ray"), a middle-school band teacher with a passion for jazz, who falls through a manhole in the middle of New York City and into The Great Before, a fantastical place where new souls get their quirks, personalities and interests before they head off to their human incarnations.

There he meets up with 22 (voice of Tina Fey, "30 Rock"), a precocious soul who never understood the allure of the human experience. As Joe tries to show 22 that life as a living, breathing person has its upsides, he sets off on a journey that may help him answer some of life's more important questions.

The film was directed by Oscar winner Pete Docter ("Up," "Inside Out"), who years ago became fascinated with his own infant son's apparent personality and soul at birth. More than 23 years later, he turned that into a story when he began questioning his own life path.

"(It) just inspired him to think about his kids," explains Dana Murray, the film's producer, "like his son when he was born, just (how) he showed up with so much personality on day one. And how is that? Where does that come from? And so really just those two things really inspired the spark, really, for the idea."

In Focus

"Cobra Kai" (Netflix — season premiere, Jan. 8, 2021) The former YouTube Premium series moves over to Netflix for its third season, which finds everyone reeling after a violent brawl between their high school dojos puts Miguel (Xolo Mariduena) in the emergency room fighting for his life. Ralph Macchio, William Zabka, Martin Kove, Mary Mouser and Jacob Bertrand are among cast returnees like, 'Oh, well how are we going to portray that on a screen? We need something.' But we didn't want it to be ghostlike, like Casper the ghost. "So from that research, we just started our character artists down a path of exploring and they went down all kinds of crazy routes and we went back to a drawing that Pete had done at the very beginning. Super simple, of just like that light bulb shape."

As for portraying the soul itself,

Murray and the team at Pixar

Animation Studios did plenty of research, talking to a wide range of spiritual people, including priests, pastors, Buddhists and Shamans to get their take on how a soul might

"And across the board," Murray says, "it was very, very similar in how people described it: ethereal, vaporous, no form. And so we were appear.

Indeed, this is prime Christmas Day viewing for the family. Murray thinks it has something for everyone.

"I feel like after 2020 and just the year I think the world has had ... often the holidays can be a time of reflection," she says. "And so I'm hoping people can walk away from the film wanting to just take a look at their own lives and think about: Are they spending the limited time they have on Earth wisely and what would they change? And just to be kind of grateful for what they have around them. But I feel like there are a lot of themes in the movie that it's just interesting, I hope everyone walks away feeling something different."

A popular horror tale gets a sequel with this "continuation" that retains the premise of the first "Craft," with several young witches getting true tastes of their powers ... which don't always mesh, though they can do some pretty incredible things when they're all working in sync. Cailee Spaeny, Gideon Adlon (a daughter of "Better Things" star Pamela Adlon), Lovie Simone and Zoey Luna play the new quartet of teen sorceresses. Actress Zoe Lister-Jones ("Life in Pieces") wrote and directed the film, which also features Michelle Mainahan and someone who's quite familiar with dealing in supernatural matters, David Duchovny. Fairuza Balk, from the original picture, also turns up here. Sparse availability of theaters sent this straight to On Demand in America, though it did have some theatrical engagements overseas.  (PG-13: AS, P, V) (Also on Blu-ray and On Demand)

"THE 100: THE COMPLETE SERIES"

While never a ratings blockbuster, this CW scifi adventure show had a consistent and loyal following that kept it on the air for seven seasons, and those fans likely will be happy to get their hands on this DVD set that compiles all of the episodes. Developed from Kass Morgan's series of novels, it follows survivors of an apocalypse who are sent down from a space station to determine whether Earth is still inhabitable. They run into various perils, many of them generated by the so-called Mountain Men, who have bad things in mind for the group of returnees. The ensemble

Since it's the Christmas holiday week, here are several perennially popular classics that are home-video staples:

"IT'S A WONDERFUL LIFE"

Upon its release, this Frank Capra-directed 1946 classic (newly available in a Steelbook edition) had a lukewarm box-office performance that gave no indication it would become as popular as it long as it has been ... its plentiful television exposure being a huge factor. James Stewart makes the perfect George Bailey, the hapless Bedford Falls citizen whose experience of seeing how life would be without him has been echoed by countless TV-series episodes. Donna Reed, Lionel Barrymore and - as wing-earning angel Clarence - Henry Travers lend great support. DVD extras: theatrical trailer; "making-of" documentary. * (Not rated: AS) (Also on Blu-ray and 4K Ultra HD)

"MIRACLE ON 34TH STREET"

Is, or isn't, a department-store Santa the real Father Christmas? As others debate the man's true identity, Edmund Gwenn gives an and Austin Crute co-star. Sherri Shepherd has a recurring

"Salt-N-Pepa" (Lifetime — TV movie premiere, Jan. 23, 2021)

This new original Lifetime docudrama charts the I his new original Litetime docuarama charts the careers of the groundbreaking hip-hop duo from their early days when Cheryl "Salt" James (G.G. Townson) and Sandra "Pepa" Denton (Laila Odom) were students at New York's Queensborough Community College. The film chronicles how the duo changed the look of hip-hop on their way to becoming the first women in that genre to on platinum and earm multiple awards. Claveland Beto go platinum and earn multiple awards. Cleveland Berto, Monique Paul and Jermel Howard also star. An interview special hosted by Loni Love immediately follows this

Oscar-winning performance opposite a young Natalie Wood, who plays a skeptical youngster eventually on the verge of becoming a true believer. Maureen O'Hara and John Payne also star in director-screenwriter George Seaton's fantasy that has charmed generations - and also has inspired several remakes, though those don't come close to matching the overall appeal of this 1947 original. DVD extras: audio commentary by O'Hara; 1955 television version; AMC "Backstory" episode; "Movietone News" short subject; poster gallery. (Not rated) (Also on Blu-ray)

"WHITE CHRISTMAS"

As comfortable as an active fireplace on a cold winter's night, this tuneful 1954 retooling of the 12-years-earlier "Holiday Inn" makes great use of its Irving Berlin score. Bing Crosby and Danny Kaye are an ideal team as military veterans who become successful entertainment partners, then use their talents to help their former commander (Dean Jagger) re-energize his failing resort. Rosemary Clooney - aunt of George – and Vera-Ellen are charmers as the sisters who distract the guys. DVD extras: two theatrical trailers; audio commentary by Clooney; seven "making-of" documentaries; Christmas television-show appearances by Crosby and Kaye; photo galleries. * (Not rated) (Also on Blu-ray)

FULL NAME: Carson James Wentz BIRTH DATE: Dec. 30, 1992 BIRTHPLACE: Raleigh, N.C. HEIGHT/WEIGHT: 6 foot 5 inches/237 pounds

playerprofile BY GEORGE DICKIE Wentz looks to break out of season-long funk versus Cardinals

> In an NFC East that no one seems to want to win, the Philadelphia Eagles could steal a division title. Carson Wentz, now is your time to step up.

Indeed, the quarterback who electrified the league with an MVP-like performance in 2017 and then hoisted the Eagles on his back to the playoffs in 2019 has been something of a mystery this year. At this writing, with the Eagles standing at 3-6-1 and (believe it or not) within striking distance of first place, Wentz is in the midst of a nightmare season, leading the league in interceptions (14), fumbles (10) and sacks (40), and ranking 32nd in completion percentage (58.4) and 31st in yards per attempt (6.2).

Some point to out-of-sync mechanics and poor decision-making as the root of the problem. Others say it's the system he's playing in. Still others think it's coaching. Many different voices were in Wentz's ear this season giving conflicting messages. That has to serve to confuse.

And then there's the presence of his apparent successor. In April, the Eagles drafted Jalen Hurts out of Oklahoma with the 53rd overall pick. Though the team said the newcomer was no threat to Wentz's standing, he may not have taken it that way.

Whatever the case, the Eagles are stuck with a franchise g slump. Still, this season is salvageable nd victory over the Arizona Cardinals, ec. 20, on Fox, would certainly go a ound an otherwise forgettable 2020

A 'Cake Boss' heals from a gruesome injury in TLC's 'Buddy Valastro: Road to Recovery'

A career-threatening hand injury may have Buddy Valastro down, but by his estimation he'll never be out.

In September, the "Cake Boss" star and owner of the Hoboken, N.J.,based Carlo's Bakery had his right hand impaled repeatedly by a metal rod in a malfunctioning pinsetter in his home bowling alley. The resulting injury has required three surgeries to date with months of rehab of lying ahead.

The story of his journey back from the gruesome accident is told in the twohour special "Buddy Valastro: Road to Recovery," premiering Wednesday, Dec. 23, on TLC. The film follows the dramatic events as they unfolded in real time, with footage captured immediately after the mishap along with the surgeries, his rehab and his first days back on the job.

"It really started with me wanting to capture everything that was happening so I could share it with my doctors," Valastro says of his reason for doing the film, "and not miss any important details during the chaos of the accident. But after talking with the TLC team, I agreed that sharing this story could help others who are experiencing any of their own challenges and recovery."

At this writing, Valastro says that he is still dealing with stiffness, numbness and some pain as the nerves and tendons heal and he estimates that the hand is at about 10-15 percent of its pre-accident strength. Because of that, he's learned to perform some functions left-handed. And he's maintained a positive attitude.

"I've always been this way," he says. "I'm a fighter and have so much to live for and work hard for. My family keeps me motivated. There's so much I want to teach my kids and pass down the skills I learned from my own dad. I'm lucky to love what I do, so want to keep going and prove to myself I can do it."

At 43, Valastro says he's too young to be relegated to the sidelines and wants to be able to perform all the intricate functions he did prior to the accident. But even though everyone is optimistic, it's still early and there are no guarantees. So does he have a plan B in case there is no full recovery?

"It won't happen, I won't let it," he says. "I'm still in the bakery every day, working with the team. My hand might be recovering, but my mind and mouth and feet are going as fast as ever. I have an amazing team and we're hustling and keeping up with our holiday orders. ... I love a challenge so I'll do everything I can."

What's Available NOW On prime video

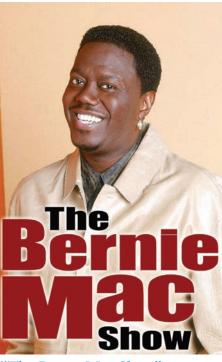

"Movie: The Kingmaker" Lauren Greenfield's critically acclaimed 2019 documentary focuses on polarizing former first lady of the Philippines Imelda Marcos, who recounts the 21 years she and husband Ferdinand Marcos were in power before being deposed and forced into exile in 1986. The film's second half shifts focus to efforts by the Marcos family to make over their family's reputation and return to their country's political scene.

"Mad About You"

Paul Reiser was star and co-creator (with Danny Jacobson) of this sitcom that aired its first seven seasons from 1992-99 on NBC and the Season 8 revival on Spectrum. He plays documentary filmmaker Paul Buchman, who deals with the minutiae of life in New York City with his wife Jamie (Helen Hunt). Anne Ramsay, Leila Kenzle, John Pankow and Richard Kind are also in the talented cast.

"The Bernie Mac Show" Created by Larry Wilmore and based on one of Mac's stand-up routines, this 2001-06 Fox sitcom stars Mac as a fictionalized version of himself, a comic who takes in his sister's three children when the woman enters rehab. Mac's celebrity was also used as a plot device to bring other celebs on the show, including Halle Berry, Serena Williams, Shaquille O'Neal and Don Rickles. Kellita Smith Smith and Camille Winbush are also in the regular cast.

"Movie: Sylvie's Love"

Eugene Ashe ("Homecoming") wrote and directed this romantic drama about two friends — a jazz saxophonist (Nnamdi Asomugha, "Crown Heights") and a TV producer (Tessa Thompson, "Dear White People") — who reunite after years to find that while their lives have gone in different directions, their feelings for each other remain the same. Eva Longoria and Aja Naomi King are also in the talented cast. (ORIGINAL)
