A 'Big Shot' gets a little attitude adjustment in Disney+ dramedy

A driven college basketball coach gets a lesson in humanity when he's forced to head up a girls highschool team in a comedy/drama series upcoming on Disney+.

In "Big Shot," premiering Friday, April 16, John Stamos ("Fuller House," "ER") is cast in the role of Marvyn Korn, whose quick temper got him ousted as coach of Wisconsin's men's hoops team after he threw a chair at a referee. To salvage his career and professional reputation, he takes a job at The Westbrook School for Girls, an elite private institution and a far cry from his days in the Big 10. But the gig also offers him the opportunity to step out of his comfort zone, re-examine his priorities and make changes for the better as he learns to work with a different kind of athlete - and they Created by David E. Kelley ("Big Little Lies," "The Undoing"), Dean Lorey ("iZombie," "Harley Quinn") and Brad Garrett, the series also stars Jessalyn Gilsig ("Glee") as assistant coach Holly Barrett and Yvette Nicole Brown ("Community) as school headmaster Sherilyn Thomas.

For Stamos, "Big Shot" entailed a major learning curve as he readily admits his lack of basketball knowledge coming in was almost comical.

"I sort of panicked when I heard it was about basketball," he explains, "but I dug into that part of it as much as I could. I went to a rehearsal with (Los Angeles Lakers great) Jerry West. I guess they call it a practice, but I called it a rehearsal, and ... that was the first moment he gave me a dirty look. And then I thought that his team ... (was) the Clippers. I thought they were a college team, and that didn't go over well.

"But I really took it as a challenge, honestly," he continues, "because it was just such a character that I've never played and it was the first character that I've been offered that everybody is talking about him like how unlikable he is and what a crab he is and he's not a nice person. So I dug into that."

As it evolves, the relationship between Marvyn and his new players becomes symbiotic – he learns to treat them as more than X's and O's and they get a lesson in professionalism and taking themselves seriously. For Lorey, this is a fish-out-of-water story about second chances.

"Even though it's a basketballthemed show, we wanted to make it very character-driven," Lorey explains," and we wanted to make sure that we never showed a basketball game that wasn't advancing some sort of major character story or something like that So we've tried to make it really character-driven, and we try to find a nice balance between drama and comedy on the show as well. My background is primarily comedy, and so between David and I, I think we've found a nice balance.

"$50k Three Ways" (HGTV — series premiere, April 26)

When money is no object, it's amazing how many options can be open to you. Chicago-based interior designer Tiffany Brooks hosts as homeowners with big visions need help turning their wish list into a dream-come-true reality. Since cash is king, Brooks offers the homeowners three options before they make a final remodeling decision.

What's Available NOW On

"Staged"

The British comedy/drama that stars Michael Sheen and David Tennant as two actors pushed by their director to continue rehearsals online when their West End play is put in shutdown due to the pandemic returns for its sophomore round. Georgia Tennant, Anna Lundberg and Lucy Eaton are also in the cast, with cameos by Samuel L. Jackson, Whoopi Goldberg and Jim Parsons. (ORIGINAL)

"Movie: Spontaneous"

Screenwriter Brian Duffield also makes his directorial debut in this 2020 sci-fi black comedy set at a high school where students have started to explode inexplicably. Living in such a world unsurprisingly fosters a strong "seize the day" attitude within the student body, so it's not surprising when an unexpected romance blossoms between classmates Mara and Dylan (Katherine Langford, Charlie Plummer).

"Movie: Fly Like a Girl"

Katie McEntire Wiatt made her featurefilm directorial debut with this 2019 documentary — a winner of multiple awards on the film fest circuit — that chronicles the efforts of girls and women to pursue their passion for aviation, a field currently dominated by men. Former NASA astronaut Nicole Stott is among the interviewees.

"Movie: Modern Persuasion"

Jane Austen's 1817 novel "Persuasion" served as the inspiration for this 2020 romancer that stars Alicia Witt ("I Care a Lot") as a driven career woman forced to come to grips with a failed relationship when her ex-boyfriend hires her company. Bebe Neuwirth, Liza Lapira and Mark Moses also star.

DISCOVER FLORID FIRST LIGHTHOUS
	Where it all began
The original first-order Fresnel lens in the St. Augustine Lighthouse was manufactured in Paris, France. In 1986, a vandal shot the lens at the top of the tower, damaging 19 of its 370 prisms. Then President of the Junior Service League of St. Augustine, Virginia Whetstone, spearhcaded a first-of-its-kind restoration project with Dan Spinella of Disney Corporation. Taking advantage of breakthroughs in laser technology, Dan measured the prisms and created the means to fabricate a new bullseye panel and 18 other prisms.
Two Coast Guardsmen, Joseph Cocking, and Nicholas Johnston, who still service the Fresnel lens today, took out the damaged parts, replaced them, and aligned the beam correctly. Initially thought of as an impossible task for a fledgling non-profit, a team effort ensured the Fresnel lens restoration, which served as a pilot project that led to other original lens restorations across the United States.

"This Is a Robbery: The World's Biggest Art Heist"

This four-part documentary series from director Colin Barnicle ("The Hobby: Collecting America's Pastime") chronicles the audacious 1990 theft of Rembrandts, Vermeers and other priceless works of art from the Isabella Stewart Gardner Museum in Boston, a crime that is still unsolved and the paintings remain missing. (ORIG-INAL)

"Dad Stop Embarrassing Me!"

Jamie Foxx's relationship with his own daughter served as the inspiration for this comedy series in which he serves as executive producer and stars as Brian, a successful business owner who just became a full-time father to teenage daughter Sasha (Kyla-Drew, "Peppermint)". While he's determined to be the best parent he can be, she wishes he'd back off. David Alan Grier also stars. (ORIGINAL) Series Premiere New

"Movie: Ride or Die"

From Japan comes this 2021 romantic drama about old girlfriends from high school who go on the run after one kills the other's abusive husband — then they rediscover their shared passion for each other. Kiko Mizuhara and Honami Sato star for director Ryuichi Hiroki ("It's Only Talk," "Nobody's Perfect"). (ORIGINAL) Premiere

"Movie: Arlo the Alligator Boy"

After learning he's from New York City, a half-alligator, half-human boy leaves the swamp and goes on the road to find his long, lost father. Once there, he finds a group of misfits who will become his new family in this animated tale from director Ryan Crego ("Sanjay and Craig"). (ORIG-INAL) Premiere

Cubs' Baez seeks to recapture All-Star form in 2021

In the category of players due for a comeback season, we present for your consideration Javy Baez.

Indeed, the two-time All-Star shortstop and sparkplug atop the Chicago Cubs' lineup is coming off the worst season of his career, one in which some metrics and analytics identified him as the worst offensive player in baseball. His numbers - a .203 average, eight home runs, a .238 on-base percentage and an OPS of .599 – don't lie: 2020 was a pretty miserable year.

But that was in a pandemic-shortened 60-game schedule that wrought havoc with more than a few players. For Baez, though, there may have been another contributing factor.

Prior to 2020, Baez relied heavily on in-game review of video to make adjustments to his swing on the fly. But that was banned by MLB last year in the aftermath of the Houston Astros sign-stealing scandal. For his part, Baez points to both factors as hurting his performance.

To his credit, Baez didn't take his struggles into the field, winning his first Gold Glove in 2020. And with a 162-game slate in 2021, along with the return of in-game video review and free agency on the horizon, the stage is set for a return to form for the uber-talented man nicknamed "El Mago" (Spanish for "The Magician"), who at 28 should be enjoying the prime of his career.

Baez and the Cubs can be seen in action Monday, April 12, opening a three-game road series against the Milwaukee Brewers in a clash of National League Central rivals airing on Fox Sports 1.

What Stewart says goes on Food Network's 'Chopped: Martha Rules'

Martha Stewart has had her hands in so many television and retail ventures over the years, one might say she's practically a cottage industry.

But that would be inaccurate. With her Martha Stewart Living Omnimedia brand, she became an actual industry.

Her newest TV endeavor comes this week on Food Network with "Chopped: Martha Rules." Premiering Tuesday, April 13, the hourlong stunt series finds Stewart presiding over the competition at an outdoor kitchen in Kennebunkport, Maine, as chefs are challenged in three rounds – appetizer, entree and dessert - to make delicious creations from a basket of mystery ingredients.

But they'll need to adapt on the fly as Stewart has carte blanche to change the rules without notice and even take control of the clock. The winner of each episode, as determined by Stewart and fellow judges Marc Murphy and Marcus Samuelsson, advance to the finale and compete for a $50,000 grand prize.

It's the latest step in a career that has seen Stewart dominate the culinary/homemaking/ design landscape on television for three decades. The following are a few of her other more noteworthy projects.

"Martha Stewart Living" (1993-2004, syndicated): Stewart arguably made her name on TV with this half-hour series based on the same-named magazine, in which she presented segments on cooking, gardening, craft making and decorating. The show left the air in 2004 after Stewart was convicted and sentenced in a stock-trading case.

"Martha" (2005-12, syndicated and Hallmark Channel): Also titled "The Martha Stewart Show," this variety/talk offering represented Stewart's return to daytime television and like its predecessor featured culinary, craftmaking and decorating segments as well has conversations with celebrity guests. Rising costs forced Hallmark to shutter production in 2012.

"Today" (1996-present, NBC): Hosts may have come and gone, but Stewart continues to be a presence on the iconic morning franchise with her regular segments on cooking, crafts and gardening.

"Martha & Snoop's Potluck Party Challenge" (2016-19, VH1): In an odd pairing, Stewart joined rapper and marijuana advocate Snoop Dogg for this cooking series in which they put their personal spins on dishes for themed dinners and drinks with celebrity guests including Seth Rogen, Wiz Khalifa, Kathy Griffin and Robin Thicke. A little too much fun was had by all.

"The Apprentice: Martha Stewart" (2005, NBC): A rare misfire was this effort in which Stewart served as a more tactful version of the show's regular boss, Donald Trump (who was one of the executive producers here). Sagging ratings brought about its demise after one

"Martha Knows Best" (2020-present, HGTV): Gardening is front and center of this series that finds Stewart offering up tips to callers and celebrity friends and showing off projects and improvements at her 150-acre estate in suburban New York.

What's Available NOW On

"Big Shot" (April 16)

David E. Kelley ("Big Little Lies," "The Undoing") is among the creative forces behind this fish-out-of-water dramedy about a college basketball coach (John Stamos, "Fuller House") forced to take a gig with an elite girls private high school after his hot temper got him dropped from his previous job. Jessalyn Gilsig ("Glee") and Yvette Nicole Brown ("Community") also star. (ORIGINAL)

"The Kid Who Would Be King"

Writer-director Joe Cornish's 2019
British-American fantasy stars Louis
Ashbourne Serkis (son of actor Andy Serkis) as 12-year-old Alex, who struggles with bullies and other adolescent woes when he stumbles across an old sword at a construction site. The blade turns out to be Excalibur, King Arthur's legendary weapon, and Alex is destined to protect the world from Morgana (Rebecca Ferguson), an evil enchantress.

Questions:

"Earth Moods" (April 16)

Get ready to mellow out. From the folks at National Geographic comes this documentary series that takes viewers on what the streaming service calls "the ultimate retreat" — to glaciers, deserts, rainforests, metropolises and other colorful and calming corners of the world in an escape from the cacophony of everyday life. (ORIGINAL)

"Rio" (April 16)

This colorful 2011 animated fantasy reunites — vocally, anyway — Anne Hathaway and Jesse Eisenberg, who played siblings on "Get Real" before their movie fame. A macaw (voice by Eisenberg) is taken to Brazil, potentially to mate with another of the last of their kind (voice by Hathaway). As might be expected, it's not that simple. George Lopez, Jane Lynch and Jamie Foxx are also heard.
