Welcome again to 'Fantasy Island': Series gets an update

If you think you know everything about "Fantasy Island," get ready for some surprises.

After two television-series incarnations and a 2020 feature film, the concept of a lush paradise where guests pay handsomely often in more ways than one - to live their dreams gets another revival as Fox's weekly version debuts Tuesday, Aug. 10. (A preview special airs Sunday, Aug. 8.) "Without a Trace" and "Grand Hotel" alum Roselyn Sanchez now plays the site's host, a descendant of the enigmatic Mr. Roarke character originated by Ricardo Montalban; she maintains mysteries of her own as assistants help her add surprises, and not always welcome ones, to visitors' made-to-order fantasies.

The friendly Sanchez reports that she looked again at executive producers Aaron Spelling and Leonard Goldberg's 1977-84 "Fantasy Island" series "once I started doing this new reboot, just to get more familiar with it. It's a big responsibility to do a reimagining of the whole thing. We feel honored and grateful, but the showrunners ("The Shield" and "The 100" veterans Liz Craft and Sarah Fain) have taken some liberties"

Sanchez certainly applauds "Fantasy Island's" former Mr.
Roarke being succeeded by her Elena Roarke: "I had no idea they were going to make the character a woman. When my team was told I had an offer for the show, I didn't think it was for that role. I read the first script and thought, 'I think I can do something really special with this.' "

There may not be a literal Tattoo – the diminutive sidekick Herve Villechaize played opposite Montalban – but Sanchez cryptically notes her "Fantasy Island" has a parallel character, and possibly even a variation on the famous opening line, "The plane! The plane!"

"The premise is very similar," the actress allows. "Everyone goes in with an idea of what they need, and they usually come off the island as better people, with lessons they had no idea they needed." One upcoming "Fantasy Island" guest star is Sanchez's fellow-actor husband, Eric Winter ("The Rookie").

Sanchez is having an active year on both sides of the camera, since she was prepping her feature-directing debut ("Diario: Mujer y Cafe") when she got the call to join "Fantasy Island." A huge bonus for the San Juan native is that both projects are being made in her homeland of Puerto Rico.

"It's unbelievable," Sanchez enthuses. "Two of my three brothers, my parents, my cousins ... just about my whole family lives here. When I was scouting locations for my movie, a couple of them weren't available because of 'Fantasy Island,' me not knowing at the time that I was going to end up doing 'Fantasy Island!' God works in mysterious ways."

In Focus

"He's All That" (Netflix - movie premiere,

Aug. 27)
This reimagining of the 1999 teen cult hit "She's All That" turns the tables on the genders and stars newcomer Addison Rae as an influencer who accepts the challenge to transform her school's biggest loser (Tanner Buchanan, "Cobra Kai") into the prom king. Rachael Leigh Cook, who played the transformed party in the original, is the influencer's mother here, in a cast that also includes Madison Pettis and Kourtney Kardashian.

An heiress steps into the kitchen in 'Cooking With Paris'

Paris Hilton isn't exactly an ace in the kitchen. She'll be the first to admit that, but she also doesn't mind bringing viewers along on her journey to cooking competence in a series currently streaming on Netflix.

In "Cooking With Paris," the socialite, heiress, businesswoman and media personality welcomes you into her kitchen as she learns how to slice, dice, sauté and sear. She's joined by celebrity friends, who engage in friendly banter with the host as she showcases her burgeoning culinary skills, her glamorous kitchen wardrobe and her formidable party-throwing talents.

The idea for the series came about from a video that Hilton posted to YouTube last year showing her making her "Paris Lasagna," which has garnered more than 5 million views since its debut.

"It was just a fun video that I filmed at home during quarantine," explains Hilton, who is also an executive producer here, "where I didn't take anything too seriously and I had no idea that it would take off like that. I started getting calls about putting together the show and the rest is history. ...'

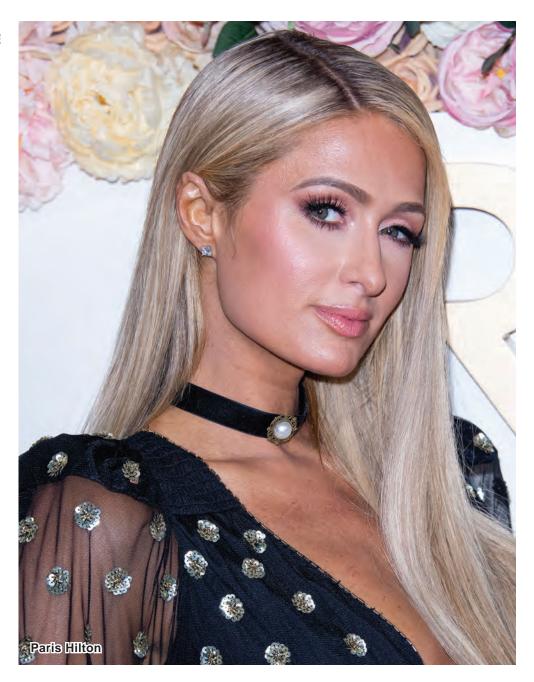

"I learned to cook so many things that I've never cooked before," she continues.

"It was a lot of fun to learn all of these new skills, try new recipes and to bond with my friends."

In the episodes, Hilton tackles relatively simple items such as frittatas, cannolis and even vegan fries, helped by guests including singer Demi Lovato, TV personality Kim Kardashian and rapper Saweetie. And while she's not exactly Julia Child, she does appear to have some kitchen smarts, which she says she learned from her mother growing up. She also dresses to the nines, which in some cases has resulted in ruined clothing.

But this show isn't about education so much as entertainment. Hilton had fun filming the episodes with her friends and she hopes her experiences resonate with viewers.

"With everything that's happened in the world in the past year and a half, people want to be able to laugh and smile and watch something that makes them feel good and also learn," she says. "I think a lot of people have been cooking at home during this time and love making new things. It's such a fun experience to invite someone over and cook and bond with them. I hope that the show also inspires others to invite their friends over to cook and enjoy their
