Dierks Bentley helps Nashville bring the new year to CBS

Dierks Bentley typically spends New Year's Eve on a holiday skiing vacation, but not this time.

Along with many other country-music stars, he'll help CBS get back in the Dec. 31 special-programming game – something the network largely has been out of since its years of featuring bandleader Guy Lombardo and the Royal Canadians. Starting in primetime schedule and resuming after late local news on Friday, Dec. 31, "New Year's Eve Live: Nashville's Big Bash" will present Bentley, Zac Brown Band and Dan + Shay as headliners at the title city's Bicentennial Capitol Mall State Park. Bobby Bones and "Entertainment Tonight's" Rachel Smith will serve as hosts.

"I have a vested interest in this town and in country music, and this spotlight is a big deal for us," the friendly Bentley says. "I love watching the New Year's Eve shows with my kids and seeing the ball drop, but it just seems like it's not what it used to be. It's also really cold in New York, and it's not that it's not fun doing those shows, but there should be one from Nashville. People love country music, so it's about time we have a show coming out of here."

Bentley will have plenty of peers on hand for nearly 50 performances from various Music City venues, and the roster also includes Jason Aldean, Jimmie Allen, Kelsea Ballerini, Gabby Barrett, Brooks & Dunn, Luke Bryan, Elle King, Miranda Lambert, Darius Rucker, Blake Shelton and Cole Swindell. Holding to Nashville tradition, the drop of a "music note" will prompt fireworks at midnight Central time; the new year's East Coast arrival also will be marked.

"I've been touring this year," Bentley reports (though some of his shows were canceled due to COVID-19 protocols), "and with what's happening with audiences out on the road, there's this celebratory feeling and a sense of relief. People are congregating and singing at the top of their lungs, and putting a period on 2021 and hoping for better things in 2022 is going to be a big theme in downtown Nashville. It'll be a much-needed party, that's for sure."

The pandemic has given Bentley – who's won multiple awards from the Country Music Association and the Academy of Country Music – more time than he expected to work on his forthcoming 10th studio album. He already has released its singles "Gone" and "Beers on Me," both of which he expects to perform on the New Year's Eve special.

"You play every show like it's the last one, and you celebrate it like it's the last one," Bentley reasons of the current times. "Wrapping that feeling into a New Year's Eve show, it's going to be incredible."

DISCOVER FLORIDA'S FIRST LIGHTHOUSE

In 1875, Major William A. Harn became Head Keeper of the St. Augustine Lighthouse. Keeper Harn and his wife Kate, along with their daughters, became the first residents of the Keepers' House. Life at a light station was busy, and everyone would help tend to the light and grounds. One aspect of this was to greet and entertain visitors. The Harn children loved hearing stories from the outside world as Kate served lemonade on the porch of the Keepers' House.

The Harn family lived and worked at the light station from 1876 until 1889. After William's passing, Kate served as the Second Assistant before moving the family into town and later returning home to Maine. The photograph above was taken at the Harn family home in Maine during the 1920s. Among those pictured are Kate and five of her six daughters.

In Focus

"Ray Donovan: The Movie" (Showtime movie premiere, Jan. 14, 2022)

After seven seasons, this acclaimed crime drama calls it a wrap with this two-hour movie finale, which picks up the action pretty much where Season 7 left off. Mickey Donovan (Golden Globe winner Jon Voight) is in the wind, but Ray (Liev Schreiber) vows to do whatever it takes to find his volatile father and stop him before the old man can cause even more carnage. The film also interweaves Ray and Mickey's origin story from 30 years ago with present-day fallout from the long-running Donovan-Sullivan feud.

Tampa Bay Buccaneers It's late December – do you know where Tom Brady is?

As the NFL regular season winds down to its final few weeks, Tom Brady is once again looking every bit like an MVP and his team is looking every bit like a Super Bowl favorite. Yawn.

Indeed, at 44 the Tampa Bay Buccaneers' veteran quarterback continues to make it look easy. He's showing no signs of age and in fact, one might argue he's having one of the best seasons of his 22year NFL career.

As of early December, the three-time league MVP and seven-time Super Bowl champ had connected on 309 of 457 passes (a 67.6 percent completion rate) for 3,403 yards (second to only Derek Carr of the Las Vegas Raiders) with a league-leading 30 passing touchdowns and nine interceptions in 11 games. His rating of 103.1 is his best since 2016, and is markedly better than his career average of 97.5.

But that's only part of the story. The Bucs, at this writing, were in first place in the NFC South with an 8-3 record and in line for the third playoff seed in the conference. But that could change as the Bucs will get a pair of tomato cans — the Carolina Panthers twice and the New York Jets — in their final three games.

Home field advantage or no, Brady is deadly in the postseason — his 34 playoff wins are an NFL record — so any opponent that draws the defending Super Bowl champion Bucs in January will know they will have a mountain to climb.

Brady and the Bucs can be seen in action Sunday, Dec. 26, when they drop in on the aforementioned Panthers in a regional game airing on Fox.

Chefs turn mystery ingredients into a meal to remember in 'Raid the Fridge'

Dan Ahdoot is a stand-up comedian, actor, food writer and restaurateur with a background as a cook at a Michelinrated eatery. Which makes him uniquely qualified to host a cooking competition upcoming on Food Network.

In "Raid the Fridge," a six-episode series premiering Tuesday, Dec. 28, Ahdoot oversees the action as four contestants, all professional chefs, are tasked with creating a delicious meal using only the contents of the mystery refrigerator. And they choose these fridges based on appearance, which can be deceiving. So the chef who selected the high-end model might get stuck with leftover pizza and Captain Crunch while the more modest unit with the crayon drawings on it could have lobster or caviar within. Or vice versa.

The contestant whose creations best impress the judging panel of Jordan Andino and Jamika Pessoa wins – wait for it – a refrigerator full of cash.

"It's weird because the chefs can only choose a fridge based on what they see on the outside, like the pictures and magnets," Ahdoot explains. "So it could be a picture of the Statue of Liberty – so what does that mean? Does that mean there's going to be New York pizza in there, New York cheesecake? Or does it mean, well, the Statue of Liberty was made in France so maybe it's French food. There are a lot of loose interpretations of what you see on the outside."

In addition to explaining the techniques of the chefs, it also falls to Ahdoot to get inside the contestants' heads and make them second-guess their choices, thus adding an element of mental anguish to the proceedings.

"My job is to just make their life a living hell for the day that they're shooting with me," he says. "They all unfollowed me on Instagram after we were done shooting. They followed me when they knew they were going to be on the show and after we shot they all unfollowed me because I made their lives hell for the day."

In the end, a real chef can make a great meal from just about anything and Ahdoot says some of the dishes created during the show's shoot were incredible in their creativity and on the level of a Michelin-rated restaurant. But he also adds that life wasn't exactly easy for the contestants.

"It's like 'Squid Games,' " he says, "but nobody dies and it's actually really fun. And there's actual squid."

"The Roy Rogers Show"

The inaugural round of this Western series originally broadcast on NBC from 1951 to 1957 stars Rogers and wife Dale Evans as a ranch owner and a cafe proprietor in an 1800s Old West town that apparently had all the conveniences — cars, telephones, electric lights — of the 20th century. Rogers' beloved horse Trigger and German shepherd Bullet the Wonder Dog headed the nonhuman cast.

"Movie: The Theory of Everything"

Eddie Redmayne won an Oscar for his superb performance as astrophysicist Stephen Hawking in this 2014 biopic, which charts Hawking's relationship with then-wife Jane (Felicity Jones). Both are tested sorely when Stephen is diagnosed with ALS, but even as his body fails, he applies himself even more to his work, becoming a global icon for his accomplishments against very visible odds. Emily Watson also stars.

"Movie: Lady of the Manor"

Actor Justin Long and his brother Christian made their directorial debuts with this 2021 buddy comedy about a pot-smoking slacker (Melanie Lynskey, "Yellowjackets") who gets a job as a tour guide at a historic Savannah, Ga., mansion and winds up becoming friends with the ghost of a 19th century resident (Judy Greer, "The Descendants"). Justin Long, Ryan Phillippe, Luis Guzman, and Patrick Duffy also star.

"The Lucy Show"

Lucille Ball reteamed with her "I Love Lucy" collaborators Bob Carroll Jr., Madelyn Davis, Bob Schiller and Bob Weiskopf to create this 1962-68 sitcom follow-up in which she stars as Lucy Carmichael, a scheming widow with two kids, a long-suffering best friend (Vivian Vance, also from the previous series) and a cantankerous boss (Gale Gordon).
