HBO's 'The Gilded Age' a tale of upheaval in late-1800s New York

Old money clashes with new amid the changing economic order of late-1800s New York in a period drama from "Downton Abbey" creator Julian Fellowes that is upcoming on HBO.

In "The Gilded Age," premiering Monday, Jan. 24, it's 1882 and there is a growing conflict between the old ways and the new. One side is represented by New York socialites Agnes van Rhijn and Ada Brook (Christine Baranski, "The Good Fight," Cynthia Nixon, "And Just Like That ..."), old money sisters who take young niece Marian Brook (Louisa Jacobson, "Gone Hollywood") into their Fifth Ave. brownstone following the death of her father.

To their dismay, their new neighbors are George and Bertha Russell (Morgan Spector, "The Plot Against America," Carrie Coon, "The Nest"), whom they regard as new money riffraff despite that he has made a fortune in railroads and she is a social climber and a capable woman in her own right.

Caught between these worlds is Marian, who must decide whether her future lies with the established order or in going her own way.

The nine-episode first season was filmed in late 2020 and early 2021 around New York City as well as in Newport, R.I., and Troy, N.Y. The turn-of-the-century architecture at these locations was a source of fascination for Spector, who embraced the chance to play someone from that era, albeit with some trepidation. "You know, I'm married to a British actor," Spector, the husband of Rebecca Hall ("Passing"), notes, "and when they start they do a lot of this type of drama, this sort of this era, the sort of high-style, high-language stuff. I'd done it in school but never really professionally so I was a little nervous about approaching it.

"But I think it's sort of a testament to Julian's abilities as a writer," he continues, "that you sort of slip into it quite easily, actually. But yeah, I really loved George. I love his combination of ruthlessness and deep love for his family and sweetness with his children. It gives you a lot to sort of oscillate between."

Coon, meanwhile, loved that Bertha was her own woman with her own mind and thinks that had she existed in a later time, could conceivably be a senator or an entrepreneur.

"What I related to particularly with Bertha was an egalitarian marriage where her husband was not intimidated by her ambitions," she says. "That's certainly something I share with my husband (actor/ playwright Tracy Letts, "Divorce") and so he's my biggest champion. And I loved that Bertha and George have this passionate, equal, sexual relationship at the center of this story.

"I found that very relatable and very compelling – and very fresh and contemporary-feeling," she continues. "You know, not some stodgy period piece. These are people with the fleshand-blood compulsions and I really appreciated that about them."

From Germany and director Maria Schrader ("Love Life") comes this 2021 romantic comedy about Alma (Maren Eggert, "Giraffe"), a woman who agrees to take part in a study in which she is required to live with Tom (Dan Stevens, "The Guest"), a humanoid robot designed to be the perfect life partner for her. Sandra Huller also stars.

DISCOVER FLORIDA'S FIRST LIGHTHOUSE

In 1875, Major William A. Harn became Head Keeper of the St. Augustine Lighthouse. Keeper Harn and his wife Kate, along with their daughters, became the first residents of the Keepers' House. Life at a light station was busy, and everyone would help tend to the light and grounds. One aspect of this was to greet and entertain visitors. The Harn children loved hearing stories from the outside world as Kate served lemonade on the porch of the Keepers' House.

The Harn family lived and worked at the light station from 1876 until 1889. After William's passing, Kate served as the Second Assistant before moving the family into town and later returning home to Maine. The photograph above was taken at the Harn family home in Maine during the 1920s. Among those pictured are Kate and five of her six daughters.

Donovan Mitchell has the Jazz on his chest but the Mets in his heart

FULL NAME: Donovan Vernell

BIRTH DATE: Sept. 7, 1996

HEIGHT/WEIGHT: 6 feet 1

inch/215 pounds

HOMETOWN: Elmsford, N.Y.

Mitchell Jr.

Donovan Mitchell's formidable game may belong to the Utah Jazz but his rooting interests lie in another sport entirely. And it's mainly thanks to his father.

BY GEORGE DICKIE

Indeed, the 25-year-old All-Star shooting guard spent much of his childhood in Major League locker rooms, the result of his father Donovan Sr. being in the employ of the New York Mets' front office. So naturally he grew up rooting for the Amazin's with a poster of David Wright on his bedroom wall in the Mitchells' suburban New York home.

In fact, the younger Mitchell himself might have had a baseball career had fate not intervened. In his sophomore year at the Canterbury School in Connecticut, he suffered a broken wrist in an infield collision that ended his season. He turned his focus to basketball and transferred to Brewster Academy in New Hampshire, where his play attracted the attention of college recruiters.

After two years at the University of Louisville, where he was First Team All-ACC his sophomore season, Mitchell declared for the 2017 NBA Draft and was selected 13th overall by the Denver Nuggets, then sent to the Jazz in a draft night trade.

Now in his fifth season with the Jazz, Mitchell has established himself as an elite scorer with the ability to take it to the rim or shoot it from beyond the arc and dominate games. With the Jazz owning one of the top seeds in the West, his talents certainly will be instrumental in a postseason run.

Mitchell and the Jazz can be seen in action Wednesday, Jan. 26, when they host the Phoenix Suns in a game airing on ESPN.

> COLLEGE: Louisville (2015-179) DRAFTED: Selected in the first round (13th overall) by the Denver Nuggets, then dealt to the Jazz TEAMS: Utah Jazz (2017-present) POSITION: Shooting guard tasty†∕ BY GEORGE DICKIE 'Fast Foodies' returns for Season 2 with more repartee and reimagined dishes

Anyone who has found their curiosity piqued by the reimagined dishes on truTV's "Fast Foodies" can actually try a few – if they happen to be in the St. Paul, Minn., area, that is.

That's the home of the Handsome Hog, the Southern cuisine eatery owned by Justin Sutherland, one of the chefs on the show. On the Thursday nights the series airs, he has watch parties featuring the dish he's creating onscreen as that night's special. It's a clever bit of entrepreneurship that he reports has paid off.

"Last season every Thursday was standing room only ...," he notes. "This season, we definitely are going to do a lot more now that we know the demand for it and are a little bit more prepared. We've got some dishes planned out. I don't know the episodic breakdown yet fully, so once I figure out the order of episodes, we're definitely going to plan some dishes to coincide with our watch parties."

As the second season kicks off Thursday, Jan. 27, Sutherland and fellow chefs Kristen Kish and Jeremy Ford again put their imaginations and culinary chops to the test creating reimagined fast food dishes for celebrity guests to sample and choose which is best. This season, they include comic Nikki Glazer ("Blind Date"), actor Jesse Tyler Ferguson ("Modern Family"), comic/actress Natasha Leggero ("Another Period"), "Saturday Night Live" player Bobby Moynihan and NBA commentator Baron Davis.

In Thursday's season opener, Glazer is the show's guest diner, someone who Sutherland says he has always admired. And the chemistry is evident as the repartee between Glazer and the three chefs is easy and entertaining.

Keeping up with stand-up comics, people who make their living being fast on their feet and funny off the cuff, can be challenging for some. But Sutherland says that kind of interplay has proven stimulating for him and his castmates.

"It's great. It keeps the energy up," he says. "It gives us something more to do than just cook. And I think honestly, it's a lot of back-and-forth. I think there's moments where we're keeping them on their toes and from the majority of the guests that we've had, I think it's been a really good backand-forth of all of us making each other laugh and keeping each other on our toes. ...

"But at the end of the day, it's our show," he continues, "and we've got to balance being the host of our show and kind of maintaining control (with) also playing off of their jokes. And yeah, I think we've all gotten better at improv and keeping the things moving."
