Noura's developing family vibe at Fruit Cove location

Noura's has been offering Mediterranean fine cuisine to Northeast Florida for years, but now they are doing so in two locations, after opening a restaurant in Fruit Cove in November 2021.

The Fruit Cove location joins their Lakewood area location in Jacksonville, which has been open since 2009.

"We are third generation Lebanese, and what we serve here is very authentic," said Noura Abi-Khalil, who owns and operates the business with her husband Raymond.

Adding a second location was something the couple had been considering and the time felt right to do just that, because according to Noura, there was an obvious demand for their food in the area.

"We had found a lot of customers from the Ponte Vedra Beach and St. Augustine areas, and everyone was just saying how we should 'come open here," Noura said.

According to Noura, being in Fruit Cove allows for them to service those surrounding areas as well as south Mandarin and Julington Creek.

However, Noura understands that it is going to take some time before the restaurant establishes itself in the new area and draws in the new customers to go with the regulars that have come to love the food so much.

"We are very proud of everything we do, and we hope that you give it a try," Noura said. "I promise you won't be disappointed with the quality."

The menu features a variety of options common within the Mediterranean culture, such as kibbeh (crushed wheat ball, stuffed with meat, onion and spices), kabobs, tabbouleh and hummus.

"What is good about a Middle Eastern meal is that you have some meat, some vegetables and some beans, so the meal has a little bit of everything," Noura said. "It is very filling."

The selection also includes hot sandwiches, salads and oven pies to go with the platter options. Vegan and gluten-free options are also available.

"All the sandwiches are made here and made to order," Noura said. "There is a dish for every customer. Everything is very healthy and very fresh."

Raymond has been in the restaurant business for more than 30 years, and during that time there has been a definite shift in the amount of familiarity and interest in the Northeast Florida communities when it comes to eating Middle Eastern food.

"Since we first started, we have really educated the community about what to eat with what and what goes good together," Noura said.

The Abi-Khalil family is passionate about everything they do, which includes owning Noura's Mediterranean Fine Cuisine.

The common theme is that once they try something, most customers end up liking it and finding out that the menu has so many delicious options to choose from.

"I'm excited and very optimistic about it," Noura said. "If we succeeded in 2009, which was at the peak of the recession when we opened, why can't we do it again."

That passion about their culture and food is what drives the Abi-Khalils and gives life to their entrepreneurial endeavors.

This passion is something Noura hopes to pass along to her young daughters, Bella-Maria and Noor-Myriam.

Although hiring people has been a challenge of late, it is the staff that Noura believes helps produce the family vibe that they have created at the Lakewood location and are introducing in Fruit Cove.

location (Lakewood) have been with us since we opened," Noura said. "It has gotten to where they're not employees anymore but are now family. They are all from the different Arab countries and we love them dearly. They live and we live through this business."

One of the convenient things about Noura's is that it offers the option to eat in or select something to "grab and go," which is popular for people with limited time available.

Noura's is open from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday through Saturday and closed Sunday. Its new location is located at 119 Bartram Oaks Walk, Suite 101 in Fruit Cove.

"Sunday is family day and church day," Noura said.

Cooking and baking gets competitive in streaming series on Netflix, discovery+

Streamers who dig culinary competition series will be in their glory this week as there are a number of new and recently premiered series and specials available for their consumption.

Most prominent among them is "Iron Chef: Quest for an Iron Legend." Premiering Wednesday, June 15, this reboot of the "Iron Chef" franchise features five new trailblazing Iron Chefs - Curtis Stone, Dominique Crenn, Marcus Samuelsson, Ming Tsai and Gabriela Cámara - facing off with Challenger Chefs Mason Hereford, Curtis Duffy, Claudette Zepeda, Esther Choi, Gregory Gourdet, Mei Lin and Yia Vang in challenges that push them to the limits of their endurance and creativity as they come up with extraordinary culinary creations.

The competition's most successful Challenger will return to do battle in the and Brooke Williamson, wins an allgrand finale for the chance to be named the first ever "Iron Legend." Andrew Zimmern and Nilou Motamed serve as judges along with a rotating panel that includes Justin Willman, Wolfgang Puck and Masaharu Morimoto.

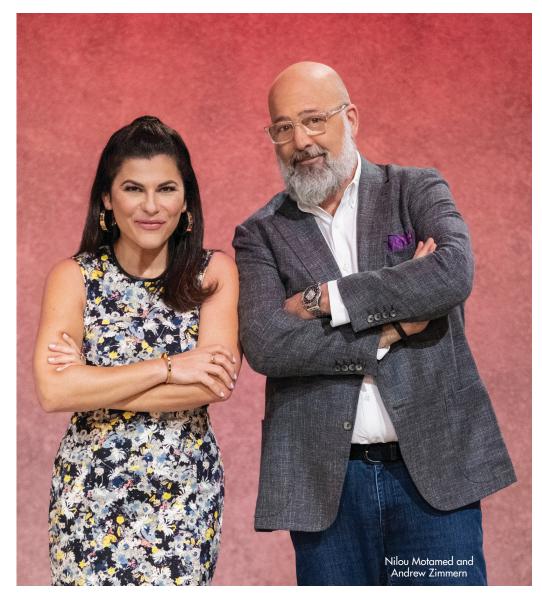

Over on Magnolia Network and discovery+ on Sunday, June 12, is the one-hour special "Silos Baking Competition." Taking place in Waco, Texas, this friendly competition challenges bakers to perfect a favorite recipe for a $25,000 prize and a chance to have their confection featured on the menu at Chip and Joanna Gaines' bakery, Silos Baking Co. The Gaineses also serve as judges.

If French cuisine is your thing, then "The Julia Child Cooking Challenge" is for you. Currently streaming on discovery+, this competition that is inspired by the legendary chef pits eight talented home cooks and Child superfans in a series of high-stakes culinary challenges. Along the way, the chefs share personal stories about their hero, cook in a kitchen recreated in the likeness of where Child cooked, using the same ingredients she used and are even guided by the late chef herself via video.

The winner, as determined by head judge Antonia Lofaso and a rotating panel including Molly Baz, Cliff Crooks expense paid three-month cooking course at the prestigious Le Cordon Bleu in Paris.

Back on Netflix, deception is the order of the day on "Is It Cake?," an eight-episode series in which talented bakers create hyper-realistic cakes that look like everyday objects such as handbags, athletic shoes and bowling balls in the hopes of fooling a panel of celebrity judges. The winner gets a grand prize of $50,000. Mikey Day of "Saturday Night Live" is the host.

Spouses Kelly Ripa and Mark Consuelos are among the executive producers of this six-part unscripted series that follows families whose busy schedules and interests have drawn them apart as they undertake a journey to reconnect, spend uninterrupted time together and establish new relationships and bonds. (ORIGINAL)

"Just Like Me: Seasons 1-2" (Available now)

From Disney Channel Netherlands comes both seasons of this scripted reality comedy series about five teen vloggers who meet on a boat each week and collaborate, share their creativity, record videos and discuss their online reputation and daily life as well as develop their specific talents.

"The Quest" (Available now)

From the creative forces behind "The Amazing Race" and "The Lord of the Rings" comes this immersive, hybrid eight-episode competition series that drops eight real-life teenagers otherwise known as Paladins into the fantastic, fictional world of Everealm, where they must save a kingdom by fulfilling an ancient prophecy. (ORIGINAL)

"This Magic Moment" (Available now)

The "Magic" of the title of this 2016 "30 for 30" documentary refers to the Orlando Magic, who in the early '90s ascended to the top of the NBA and pop culture led by charismatic superstars Shaquille O'Neal and Penny Hardaway — both of whom deliver some delightful and brutally honest remembrances here.
