COVERSTORYBY ANTHONY RICHARDS

Cooper Electrical Services offers diverse options

Roughly two years ago Cooper Electrical Services in St. Augustine got started as the vision of Justin Cooper.

"I just kind of fell into starting the business, but it has worked out so well," Cooper said.

He and his wife Grayson were both born and raised in Tallahassee but decided to move the family to St. Augustine a couple of years ago with the hopes of finding the next steps in their career and life paths.

The decision was something Cooper made after spending time as a project manager working on more commercial projects and finding out that something was missing.

"It just wasn't as fulfilling as I thought it would be," Cooper said.

He realized that he strived to be his own boss and went to school and got his electrical contractor license.

In the two years since opening, Cooper has been proud of the amount of positive feedback he has received from the community.

"It's been great for us getting to know our neighbors and the surrounding communities," Cooper said.

According to Cooper, having so many people moving to St. Johns County and the North Florida area has created a unique situation where they can relate and help others with their transition.

The company is diverse in the services they provide, as Cooper takes pride in the fact that just about any electrical need a customer may have can be answered.

"We cater to any typical household electrical issue that may pop up," Cooper said. "It helps to do a little bit of everything.

They have been able to expand as a new business, having hired a full-time and a part-time employee to help.

The goal of the business is to provide service that not only does its job but does so in a respectful manner by always being mindful of the person's home they have been invited into.

"The hope is to be appreciated for the job we do and the way in which we go about doing it," Cooper said. "That is very important to us."

Although St. Augustine and Ponte Vedra are the primary areas where they have the most customers currently, Cooper Electric does do jobs throughout St. Johns County and into Jacksonville and looks to continue that growth and get their name out even more moving forward.

"We've been getting a lot of work lately in the World Golf Village area and in Jacksonville," Cooper said.

When they first moved to the area, Grayson was pregnant, and their son Carter is now 3 years old.

That family atmosphere is something the Coopers hope to bring and be reflective with their business approach, and they believe customers can get a sense of that.

"We want to have a business with good values and honesty at the forefront, and that starts with being selective when hiring employees and not growing just to grow, but instead growing with the right people," Cooper said.

The best way to reach Cooper Electric with any electrical needs or questions that arise is by calling 904-717-1627 or by searching the company on Google.

"We're happy with the local area and have really enjoyed getting to know it in recent years," Grayson Cooper said. "We're planting roots here as a young family and the business is just part of that."

What's Available NOW On

"Movie: King Arthur: Legend of the Sword"

Guy Ritchie's ungainly 2017 retelling of the King Arthur legends originally was intended to be the first of six films, each following different characters from the English saga ... but this opening chapter, revolving around Charlie Hunnam's Arthur, drew largely negative reviews and failed to recoup its budget. Djimon Hounsou, Aidan Gillen, Jude Law and Eric Bana also appear.

"Santa Evita"

This seven-part drama series from executive producer Salma Hayek Pinault follows the mystery of what happened to the body of beloved former Argentine first lady Eva "Evita" Peron in the years following her passing in 1952 at age 33. Natalia Oreiro, Diego Velazquez and Francesc Orella head the cast. (ORIGINAL)

"The Americans"

Keri Russell and Matthew Rhys earned critical praise and Emmy love for their portrayal of Soviet KGB agents who pose as an average American couple living in Cold War-era Washington, D.C., in this spy drama that aired on FX from 2013-18, all six seasons of which stream here. Keidrich Sellati, Holly Taylor and Noah Emmerich also star.

"Movie: Not Okay"

From writer/director Quinn Shephard ("Blame") comes this darkly funny satire that stars Zoey Deutch ("Before I Fall") as Danni, a misguided young woman who fakes a trip to Paris to boost her social media presence. But when a terrifying event occurs in the real world, it becomes part of the story of her fake trip. Dylan O'Brien and Mia Isaac also star. (ORIGINAL)

New guests and elements highlight Season 4 of Fuse's 'Made From Scratch'

If necessity is the mother of invention, then the pandemic spawned a key innovation for the producers of Fuse's "Made From Scratch" that they're taking into Season 4.

Kicking off Thursday, July 28, this new round of episodes that show celebrities and their families and friends interacting as they prepare favorite recipes in their home kitchens brings back a technique developed in Season 3, where the celebs shot their own shows without the presence of a production crew, a concession to COVID-19 protocols.

That resulted in an eye-opening level of intimacy that took everyone by surprise. So the new season will be a mix of celeb-shot episodes and those done by a crew.

"We felt that that method of filming really allowed us to get talent that would open up a little bit more," explains executive producer Jon Scarlett. "And then also, they love the ability to kind of film it themselves and be a part of the overall production, so we didn't want to lose that element. ...

"So we were able to really film it much closer to what you were familiar with in Season 1 but still keeping a little bit of that self-shot element to it. So I think we struck a good balance between the two formats and it's really kind of what people should expect from the show moving forward."

Also new to "Made From Scratch" are the types of guests it will feature. In seasons past, musical artists were the focus but this round will see actress Eva Longoria and gamer Tyler "Ninja" Blevins showing off their know-how in the kitchen. Scarlett expects the series to branch out in future seasons to include athletes and various other types of personalities.

Beyond that, the formula for the show is still the same – celebrities in their kitchens letting down their guard and making meals and conversation with family and friends and sharing stories.

"I think the magic of the show has been the kitchen," Scarlett says, "and the home-cooked meals is really where families have those really authentic and unique conversations and unique interactions. ... I think that the celebrities really love the opportunity to showcase their siblings, their mothers and fathers, their best friends and showcase some of those interactions that people don't really get to see from them."

Other guests appearing this season are singer-songwriter Noah Cyrus, actors Javon Walton ("Euphoria") and Jason Genao ("On My Block"), musician/activist/reality star Amara La Negra ("Don't Cancel Me") and singers Kyle and Syd.
