Kevin Jonas from
"Claim to Fame"

Jonas Brothers return for Season 2 of 'Claim to Fame'

Family trees bear interesting fruit. From eye and hair color to skin tones, personal preferences, behaviors and more, a family connection can have a lot of bearing on a person and their relatives. One less common thing that runs throughout some family trees is a little business called "show," and that family/fame connection is precisely what drives one of ABC's most popular returning reality shows.

"Claim to Fame," hosted by celebrity brothers Kevin and Franklin Jonas, heads into a second season Monday, June 26, on ABC.

The series first made waves in July of last year, when it premiered to wide-eyed audiences craving the "Big Brother" -esque housing situation and looking to flex deduction skills that are generally relegated to private investigators and seasoned detectives.

Designed as less of a "whodunit" and more of a "who is it," the premise of the series is that 12 celebrity relatives — each flying under the radar — live under one roof while engaging in games, personal conversations and deception to hide who they are while trying to uncover the identities of those around them. As they form alliances and make their educated guesses about one another's famous lineage, each contestant must do their best to stay in the game throughout the weekly eliminations. At the end of the season, the last relative standing takes home the $100,000 prize.

Last season's winner was LC, the "secret" eldest sister of "Nope" (2022) actress Keke Palmer. LC's real name was revealed to be Loreal Palmer, while her competitors in the two-episode finale were Logan, who turned out to be country singer Jason Aldean's cousin, and Pepper, revealed to be the granddaughter of late Rat Pack member Dean Martin ("Ocean's 11," 1960).

In a discussion with People magazine following the Season 1 finale, Palmer shared her shock at how emotional the process was for her.

"It's a game, but real people are involved and real feelings," said Palmer. "I used to watch reality TV and when I'd see someone have a breakdown, I'd be like, 'Oh this is so dramatic,' but now I apologize to those people who I thought that about. I was not expecting the emotional toll that it took."

Despite the very real ups and downs, however, Palmer thanks the show for bringing her a new circle of friends and the platform to share her dreams of a future making horror movies (not to mention the money to help put that dream into action).

"It was just such a unique experience, bringing people together who otherwise probably never would've even met," Palmer explained. "I'm walking away with 11 new friends."

Other famous relatives in the premiere season included Chuck Norris's ("Walker, Texas Ranger") grandson Maxwell; Zendaya's ("Euphoria") cousin Michael; X, identical twin of Laverne Cox ("Orange Is the New Black"); Brittany, daughter of Green Bay Packers quarterback Brett Favre; model Cindy Crawford's niece Lark; and Whoopi Goldberg's ("Sister Act," 1992) granddaughter Amara, among others.

While this year's cast of characters has been kept under wraps for obvious reasons, there is no doubt that the carefully crafted curation of celebrity relatives will be at least as shocking as the show's inaugural year. (Curious fans can do a quick Google search of the official poster, however, to start guessing immediately.)

"Claim to Fame" also has a couple of celebrity siblings as hosts of the series. Franklin and Kevin Jonas, who both return for Round 2 this June, wasted no time announcing "twice the clues and twice the fun ... for Season 2" on social media.

It's also worth reminding viewers that, in the words of Kevin Jonas, "the house [in which the contestants live] was fully art directed, so when they [the contestants] walked in, every statue, every painting was possibly a clue to someone's identity." This, of course, helps the at-home audience to hedge their bets as the show goes on as well.

Rumor has it that "Claim to Fame" creators have also added a special new twist to the reality series for Season 2. To throw some fuel on the fire of curiosity burning within the viewers at home, none of the contestants' true identities will be unveiled prior to the Guess Off round in each episode. This failsafe will eliminate early "tells" such as last season when Amara revealed her grandma Goldberg and Adria openly shared her sisterly connection to Olympic gymnast Simone Biles with the camera crew. Not to worry, though, most rules — including the no phones rule — will stay in place for a second season (bad news for any Maxwells to come!).

For reality TV and game show fans, a few fan-favorite trivia shows return to ABC Thursday, June 29. "The Chase," "Generation Gap" and "Press Your Luck" share a premiere date, making Thursdays one of the hottest summer nights on the network.

Don't miss "Claim to Fame" — and your other favorites — when the summer fun begins Monday, June 26, on ABC.

JUNE 28

“Documentary: Anthem”

Reflecting on “The Star-Spangled Banner,” this documentary follows acclaimed composer Kris Bowers (“Bridgerton”) and Grammy-winning music producer Dahi as they take a musical journey across America. They look to create a new sound, inspired by what the country’s national anthem might be if it was written in today’s time.

“Movie: Guns Akimbo”

Video game developer Miles (Daniel Radcliffe) inadvertently becomes the next participant in a real-life death match that streams online in this action comedy. While Miles soon excels at running away from everything, that won’t help him outlast Nix (Samara Weaving), a killer at the top of her game.

JUNE 29

“Secret Chef”

Executive producer and celebrity chef David Chang, known for shows like “Ugly Delicious,” brings audiences this sly and playful twist on the food competition series. Ten contestants from all walks of life — from professional chefs and home cooks to social media influencers — are isolated in a secret underground kitchen labyrinth connected by a series of conveyor belts. Guided by a mischievous, animated talking hat, the chefs must complete a number of cooking challenges with only their fellow chefs to judge them — in a blind taste test.

JUNE 30

“Movie: The Grand Budapest Hotel”

This Oscar-winning adventure comedy from Wes Anderson is set in the 1930s at the Grand Budapest Hotel, a popular European ski resort. It recounts the trysts and adventures of concierge M. Gustave (Ralph Fiennes), as told by Zero Moustafa (Tony Revolori), the lobby boy who becomes his trusted friend and protégé.

JUNE 28

“Documentary: Eldorado: Everything the Nazis Hate”

The film looks at Berlin in the late Golden Twenties, where the legendary Eldorado nightclub is a decadent escape for the LGBTQ+ community, alongside the city's rich and powerful. The club acts as a backdrop for the first LGBTQ+ movement in history, as the film visualizes for the first time how their emerging identity was intertwined with the Nazis' twisted relationship to homosexuality within their own ranks.

“Movie: Run Rabbit Run”

As a fertility doctor, Sarah (Sarah Snook) has a firm understanding of the cycle of life. However, when she is forced to make sense of the increasingly strange behavior of her young daughter, Sarah must challenge her own beliefs and confront a ghost from her past. Greta Scacchi, Damon Herriman and Lily LaTorre also star.

JUNE 29

“The Witcher: Season 3, Volume 1”

Henry Cavill closes out his run as witcher Geralt of Rivia in this series' third season, which brings audiences its first five-episode installment. As monarchs, mages and beasts of the Continent compete to capture her, Geralt takes Ciri (Freya Allan) into hiding, determined to protect his newly reunited family against those who threaten to destroy it. Entrusted with Ciri's magical training, Yennefer (Anya Chalotra) leads them to the protected fortress of Aretuza, where they hope to uncover more about the girl's untapped powers; instead, they discover they've landed in a battlefield of political corruption, dark magic and treachery. JUNE 30

“Is It Cake?: Season 2”

It's a bird! It's a plane! It's ... cake? With ever-advancing techniques and skilled artists dedicated to their craft, Netflix is baffling viewers once again when this fun, confectionary competition series returns with its second season. Hosted once again by “Saturday Night Live's” Mikey Day, the series, which is part game show and part baking show, is ready to put more celebrity judges' sleuthing skills to the test as talented, hyper-realistic cake makers put their sweet creations next to everyday objects that are identical in almost every way — except, of course, for the fact that one is edible and one is not. If the bakers can fool the panel of judges, they will be walking out of the arena with a cash prize.

“WHAM!” (Netflix - Documentary Premiere, July 5)

In 1982, best-of-friends teenagers George Michael and Andrew Ridgeley set out to conquer the world as Wham! — and by June 1986, they played their very last gig at Wembley Stadium, having done exactly that. The amazing story of how they dominated the charts around the world with timeless and classic pop songs in just four years is told for the very first time and in their own words. The film includes unprecedented access to both George and Andrew's personal archives, including never-before-seen footage alongside rare, candid and previously unheard interviews, as the documentary charts their incredible journey from school friends to superstars.

Hats off: chefs face a labyrinth of challenges in new Hulu show

The out-of-the-box, out-of-the-ordinary cooking competition, “Secret Chef,” pits chef against chef in a blind taste-test-off when it premieres Thursday, June 29, on Hulu.

From executive producer David Chang (“Ugly Delicious”) — himself a renowned chef and restaurateur, having founded the Momofuku restaurant chain — this new, “sly” twist on the cooking competition genre asks 10 chefs, ranging in skill and specialty from professionals to home cooks and social media influencers, to perform in a range of cooking challenges, all performed from the depths of a kitchen unlike any other.

The show, as complex as it is straightforward, isolates its competitors in a secret labyrinth of secluded, underground kitchens, connected only by an ongoing conveyor belt. Each chef gets a kitchen of their own, not knowing who inhabits the other nine. With no guidance from any hosts, mentors or fellow chefs, each contender has only one source for instructions: a mischievous, animated chef’s hat, which appears on screen to task the chefs with increasingly complex cooking challenges. They must rely solely on themselves as they chop, blend and sauté towards the finish line, when their dishes disappear, whisked away on a conveyor belt.

But it doesn’t stop there. In another subversion of traditional cooking competitions, this show features no judges — at least, not exactly. At the end of the competition, the chefs will partake in a series of blind taste tests, experiencing each other’s creations firsthand as the conveyor belt moves along — all without knowing the competitor behind the dish. They must rate the presented plates based on food alone, with no knowledge of whether it was prepared by an all-star chef or a hobbyist cook. Only once a winner has been chosen will identities be revealed and the labyrinth unlocked.

Produced by Dave O’Connor (“Abstract: The Art of Design”), food writer Chris Ying and Christopher C. Chen (“Ugly Delicious”) of Major-domo Media, along with Vox Media Studios and Wheelhouse’s Spoke Studios, and helmed by showrunner Patrick J. Doody (“Nailed It!”), this unique new cooking show puts food and flavor above all else, upending expectations of chefs and viewers alike when it premieres Thursday, June 29, on Hulu.

BEST KIRK DOUGLAS MOVIES

Lana Turner and Kirk Douglas in “The Bad and the Beautiful”

“Champion” (1949): Douglas fought his way into stardom, quite literally, with this gritty portrait of a boxer with a tumultuous private life.

“Ace in the Hole” (1951): Director Billy Wilder’s unsettling drama casts an unseemly Douglas as a reporter who milks a tragic story for his own professional benefit.

“Detective Story” (1951): The gritty approach of this melodrama gives Douglas an ideal framework for his portrayal of a policeman surprisingly connected to a certain case.

“The Bad and the Beautiful” (1952): Hardly a glossy picture of the entertainment world, this drama casts Douglas as a producer with — appropriately in his case — a lot of enemies. Turner Classic Movies presents the film Tuesday, June 27, during the last night of its “Hollywoodland” salute to showbiz stories.

“20,000 Leagues Under the Sea” (1954): The Jules Verne literary classic became a classic Disney movie, with Douglas’ Ned Land up against James Mason’s Captain Nemo as well as the ocean elements.

“Lust for Life” (1956): Douglas is gripping as tormented artist Vincent Van Gogh, but Anthony Quinn earned the picture’s Oscar as Paul Gauguin.

“Gunfight at the O.K. Corral” (1957): Great friends off-screen, Douglas and Burt Lancaster invest their camaraderie into their portrayals of Old West legends Doc Holliday and Wyatt Earp.

“Paths of Glory” (1957): Hardly a traditional war movie, director Stanley Kubrick’s drama blasts a passionate Douglas in an examination of what makes a hero — and what doesn’t.

“Spartacus” (1960): Douglas re-teamed with Kubrick on this epic about a slave who went up against the Roman Empire ... much as Douglas, also a producer here, went up against Hollywood’s establishment by insisting that blacklisted Dalton Trumbo get name credit for his script here.

June 27 "Movie: M3GAN"

When Gemma (Allison Williams) suddenly becomes the caretaker of her orphaned 8-year-old niece, Cady (Violet McGraw), she's unsure and unprepared to be a parent. Under intense pressure at work, Gemma decides to pair her M3GAN prototype — a life-like doll — with Cady in an attempt to resolve both problems. But, her decision has unimaginable consequences.

"Movie: The Gambler"

English professor and a high-stakes gambler Jim Bennett (Mark Wahlberg) bets it all when he borrows from a gangster and offers his own life as collateral. Always one step ahead, Bennett pits his creditor against the operator of a gambling ring and leaves his dysfunctional relationship with his wealthy mother in his wake. He plays both sides, immersing himself in an illicit, underground world. Jessica Lange, John Goodman and Brie Larson also star.

June 30 "Tom Clancy's Jack Ryan: Season 4"

The premiere of the fourth and final season of this hit action series, based on the novels by Tom Clancy, finds Jack Ryan (John Krasinski) on his most dangerous mission yet: facing an enemy both foreign and domestic. As the new CIA Acting Deputy Director, Jack is tasked with unearthing internal corruption and, in doing so, uncovers a series of suspicious black ops that could expose the vulnerability of the country. The series also stars Wendell Pierce, Michael Kelly and Betty Gabriel, Abbie Cornish, Michael Pena and Louis Ozawa. (ORIGINAL)

"Movie: Hot Tub Time Machine 2"

After their adventure from the first movie, Lou (Rob Corddry) and Nick (Craig Robinson) are living large, while Jacob (Clark Duke) still cannot rely on Lou to be a positive role model. When an unknown assailant breaks into Lou's mansion and shoots him, Nick and Jacob take him for another trip in the hot tub. They emerge in the year 2025, where they must figure out who shot Lou and prevent it from happening again.

celebrity pipeline BY JAY BOBBIN

Q: Why was "Big Sky" canceled? — Don Carr, Bridgeport, Conn.

A: We'd suspect that the ultimate determining factor for ABC was the fact that the ratings for the third (and, in the end, final) season didn't improve much, despite the show having a major cast addition for it in Reba McEntire. Hiring her had to have cost a pretty penny, at a time when series expenses were and are being scrutinized more closely than ever.

Had "Big Sky" gone to a fourth year, the network probably would have wanted or needed a "name" of the same caliber (McEntire wasn't expected to return) and whether the cost would be worth the return would have to have been part of that conversation. It likely was an easier decision to cancel the series rather than continue it when its ratings potential apparently had reached a plateau.

Q: Is "NCIS: Los Angeles" over for good, or is there a chance that it will come back? — Shawn Jefferies, via e-mail

A: With such recent "un-cancellations" as those of "Criminal Minds" and "S.W.A.T.," we know more than ever to never say "never" about such things. There has been some talk already about the "NCIS:

Why it's a goodbye to 'Big Sky'

Los Angeles" team possibly getting back together down the road for a project on Paramount+ if not elsewhere, and a thread was left hanging in the recent CBS series finale that would facilitate that, but nothing is definite about a full revival. However, LL Cool J will be reprising his Sam Hanna role as a recurring guest star on "NCIS: Hawai'i" next season.

Q: I've noticed that the James Bond movie "Tomorrow Never Dies" has been on cable a lot lately. Is that because co-star Michelle Yeoh recently won an Oscar? — Phil Strand, Attleboro, Mass.

A: That probably doesn't hurt, but the HBO channels already had made a deal to run that and several other Bond adventures for a good chunk of this year before Yeoh won her Academy Award for "Everything Everywhere All at Once." Given the level of fame and professional acknowledgement she now has, it's fun to see her at that earlier stage, though being in a Bond movie raised her international profile considerably when that picture was released in 1997. In retrospect, Pierce Brosnan has a pretty good track record for having worked with best-actress Oscar winners during his four-film tenure as Agent 007. Halle Berry also won her award for "Monster's Ball" while she was filming "Die Another Day" with Brosnan in 2002.

What's Available NOW On

June 28 "Disney Gallery: Star Wars: The Mandalorian – The Making of Season 3"

This docuseries pulls back the curtain on all of the hard work, acting, special effects and creative power that goes into making "The Mandalorian." It includes interviews with the cast and crew, as well as special behind-the-scenes footage of the process, bringing audiences an in-depth look at the newest episodes of the 14-time Primetime Emmy-winning series.

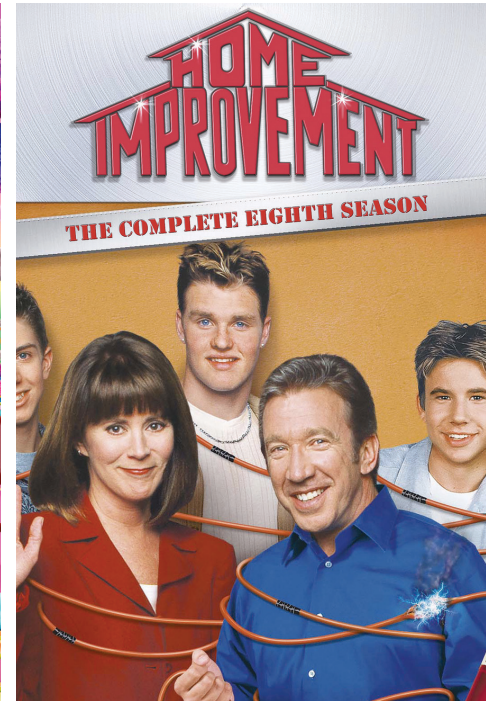

"Week-end Family - Season 2"

The series follows fun-loving and affable father Fred (Eric Judor), who does his best to be a good dad to his three daughters, Clara (Liona Bordonaro), Victoire (Midie Dreyfus) and Romy (Roxane Barazzuol), during the time he has with them on the weekends. The series picks back up with Romy about to become a big sister, Vic taking on her teenage year and Clara with her sights set on her future. Meanwhile, Emma is finding balance between her new job and her life as a step-mom, while Fred does his best to keep everyone happy.

"Alice's Wonderland Bakery - Season 2"

This fantastical Disney Junior animated series for preschoolers, inspired by the beloved world of "Alice in Wonderland." Centered on Alice, the great-granddaughter of the original heroine and a budding young baker at the enchanted Wonderland Bakery, each episode features two 11-minute stories about Alice's recipe adventures with her best pals—Fergie, a white rabbit; Hattie, her madcap friend; and Rosa, the Princess of Hearts. The series celebrates the culture and creativity of food, highlights self-expression and imparts age-appropriate social and emotional lessons about friendship, collaboration, and community.

"Home Improvement - Complete Series"

Tim "The Toolman" Taylor (Tim Allen), host of the home-improvement show "Tool Time," is definitely not as handy at home as he is on screen. He and his wife, Jill (Patricia Richardson), raise three boys who are racing toward adulthood. The Taylor family often relies on next-door neighbor Wilson (Earl Hindman), who provides unconventional wisdom and perspective to the Taylors' personal and familial crises.

*What our customers

Two of my friends recommended Creeks to me and I'm so glad they did. The estimator was friendly, open and honest and gave several options and the installers were courteous, on time and cleaned up the working area. Plus, the system works great. No one likes to have to buy a new AC in the middle of summer, but their price was fair and the work was good. Highly recommend! - Renay T.

From the moment you reach out to Creeks Air Conditioning and Heating you will recognize their professionalism and commitment to service are superior in the industry. The polite voice answering your call will reassure and work proficiently to accommodate answering your questions while placing your needs as their priority. From sales to installation, the representatives of Creeks Air Conditioning and Heating demonstrate their excellence in every aspect of their profession. I have called upon them on two separate occasions in two different homes (never the same unit) over the past 15 years and will continue to use them if I need HVAC repair or replacement. - DC Junior
