Final assignment: 'Tom Clancy's Jack Ryan' starts his last Prime Video mission Jack Ryan has had several screen lives, via a variety of actors, and his latest one is about to begin its final round.

John Krasinski returns as the CIA analyst who typically finds himself in the thick of action as the fourth and final season of the Prime Video adventure-drama "Tom Clancy's Jack Ryan" premieres Friday, June 30. Arriving six months after Season 3 began – an unusually short span between seasons for a streaming series – the program will debut two of its six new episodes each Friday, and the concluding story tests Ryan in terms of enemies both foreign and domestic.

Now the acting deputy director of the Central Intelligence Agency, Ryan is concerned with the behavior of his own operatives as he starts a probe of possible corruption. Before long, though, he discovers several black ops situations that might make America vulnerable to plots from overseas ... with the union of a drug cartel and a terrorist group potentially spelling very bad things for the United States, and challenging Ryan's strongly held beliefs in right, wrong and justice.

Krasinski also is among the executive producers of "Tom Clancy's Jack Ryan," on which novelist Clancy is given the same credit posthumously. Other returning cast members include Wendell Pierce – a Tony Award nominee this year for "Death of a Salesman" – as Ryan's former supervisor James Greer, and Abbie Cornish in a reprise of her Season 1 role as Ryan's girlfriend (and, per the Clancy books, eventual wife) Dr. Cathy Mueller. The new season also features Michael Pena as Domingo Chavez, the protagonist of an intended spinoff series.

As mentioned, "Tom Clancy's Jack Ryan" is the latest iteration of a franchise that dates back to 1987 in print ("Patriot Games" was the first novel) and to 1990 on film. "The Hunt for Red October" was the initial Ryan movie, and though he certainly was a major character as played by Alec Baldwin, top billing went to the star who played the character Ryan was investigating: Sean Connery as Soviet submarine commander Marko Ramius.

The film was an enormous hit for its time, making more than $200 million worldwide, and one only can speculate whether the result would have been the same if the originally intended casting (Kevin Costner as Ryan, Klaus Maria Brandauer as Ramius) had stuck. The outcome virtually demanded a follow-up, and that arrived in 1992 with the screen version of "Patriot Games," but with a significant change in the actor playing Ryan.

Stories differ as to why Baldwin didn't return, mostly related to the timing of his commitment to a Broadway revival of "A Streetcar Named Desire," but Harrison Ford got the part next ... and not just for one film, but for two. Harrison Ford, who had built a reputation for brainy action tales, was enlisted to assume the part; that turned out to be a good move, since the picture grossed slightly under $180 million internationally in its original theatrical run.

That made Paramount Pictures feel good about retaining Ford for 1994's "Clear and Present Danger," though Clancy hadn't been happy with the "Patriot Games" movie and had considered withholding the screen rights to other Ryan stories. (A considerable financial incentive for the author reportedly resolved that hurdle.) Despite problems caused by Mexican-location unrest and earthquake-damaged footage, all turned out well, with "Clear and Present Danger" becoming the franchise's top-grossing entry with $216 million worldwide.

By the time the movies were ready to revisit Ryan, Ford had dropped out over script disagreements, and 2002's "The Sum of All Fears" was revised to be an origin story – along the lines of Daniel Craig's James Bond debut in "Casino Royale" – with the younger Ben Affleck playing Ryan. Interestingly, Affleck has said he was working with initial "Ryan" actor Baldwin on "Pearl Harbor" on the day he got the offer, and both Baldwin and Ford gave him their blessing on succeeding them.

The outcome was quite satisfactory, with "The Sum of All Fears" (which is now something of a staple on cable networks) topping $190 million in international profits. Though that would be Affleck's one turn as Ryan, at least up to now, that casting can be seen as helping to make it plausible for Chris Pine to take up the part in 2014's "Jack Ryan: Shadow Recruit" (which finally brought Costner into the franchise as a co-star) ... and then for Krasinski to inherit the role in the Prime Video series when it began in 2018.

That service clearly was happy with what it was getting early on, since "Tom Clancy's Jack Ryan" was renewed for a second season several months before the first one premiered. Now, the show begins its victory lap, but Ryan's history with filmmakers (and the ongoing popularity of the Clancy books) might suggest that he isn't done with his screen adventures for good.

What's Available NOW On

JULY 2

"Movie: Nature Calls"

After his troops ditch him for a slumber party at the posh home of his rival brother (Johnny Knoxville), a scoutmaster (Patton Oswalt) lures the youths away in the middle of the night for an ill-advised camping trip. Rob Riggle, Patrice O'Neal and Maura Tierney also star.

"Movie: 3:10 to Yuma"

A remake of the classic western film from 1957, this 2007 action flick follows outlaw Ben Wade (Russell Crowe), who terrorized 1800s Arizona, especially the Southern Railroad, until he was finally captured. Wade must be brought to trial in Yuma to answer for his crimes, so Dan Evans (Christian Bale), the owner of a drought-stricken ranch, volunteers to escort him to the train. Along the trail, a grudging respect forms between the men, but danger looms at every turn, and the criminal's men are in pursuit.

"Movie: Abraham Lincoln: Vampire Hunter"

Based on the novel of the same name by Seth Grahame-Smith, this 2012 fantasy horror film is set in 1800s America. After loosing his mother to a vampire bite and barely escaping with his life as a boy, Abraham Lincoln (Benjamin Walker) dedicated his life to getting revenge. He is rescued by Henry (Dominic Cooper), a charismatic vampire hunter who instructs Abe in the fine art of dispatching bloodsuckers. Abe continues his fight against the undead well into adulthood and his presidency, making a last stand against the ultimate vampire foe, Adam (Rufus Sewell), and his cohorts to thwart their plan to take over the country.

Tom Segura returns to Netflix with his fifth comedy special following 2014's "Completely Normal," 2016's "Mostly Stories," 2018's "Disgraceful" and 2020's "Ball Hog." Performing to an energized sold-out crowd in Phoenix, Tom explores his "admiration" for Brad Pitt, what it's like raising two sons, and the lessons he's learned from sharing his gummies with his mother.

JULY 5 "Documentary: WHAM!"

In 1982, best-of-friends teenagers George Michael and Andrew Ridgeley set out to conquer the world as Wham! — and by June 1986, they played their very last gig at Wembley Stadium, having done exactly that. The amazing story of how they dominated the charts around the world with timeless and classic pop songs in just four years is told for the very first time and in their own words,. The film includes unprecedented access to both George and Andrew's personal archives, including never-before-seen footage alongside rare, candid and previously unheard interviews, as the documentary charts their incredible journey from school friends to superstars.

Cake or con: Season 2 of Netflix's 'Is it Cake?' makes deception delectable

Designed to trick even the most trained eye, illusion cakes have become an internet sensation, with shows like "Is It Cake?" reaching massive audiences of dedicated viewers, and popular TikTokers and YouTubers like Jonny Cakes (Jonny Manganello, who competed in Season 1 of "Is It Cake?") creating hyperrealistic baked goods for thousands upon thousands of followers and subscribers online. These reality-bending cakes delight and confuse, and for fans looking to bite into more – of what's hopefully cake – Season 2 of the cake decorating series, aptly named "Is it Cake, Too?" is now available to stream on Netflix.

The series features eight new episodes, all hosted by "Saturday Night Live's" Mikey Day, as he returns to the (very real) kitchen for his second season driving this - as Netflix calls it - "baking competition that makes you question the very fabric of reality."

"Prepare for toilets, yoga mats, guitars, rollerblades and even a replica of the Mona Lisa to get sliced and diced in the process," Netflix wrote in a recent news release, "as each week the cake artists put their incredibly niche skills to the test."

The competition begins with 10 hopeful bakers, each faced with their first challenge before the eggs, butter and milk ever come out. First, the contestants – all of whom specialize in hyperrealistic baking themselves – must identify the illusion cake hidden among a group of random, everyday objects - like, for instance, within a full-scale replica of Michael Day's college dorm room. Only the bakers able to guess correctly will move on to the main competition.

From there, the remaining few must utilize their strangely specific skills to create their own illusion cakes within an eight-hour period. The cakes will then be presented to a panel of celebrity guest judges, who will have 20 seconds to determine which, in a line of near-identical objects, is actually cake. Those who fail to trick the judges will be eliminated from the game, and in the end, only one trickster-baker will be left, crowned champion of "Is it Cake, Too?"

This season, guest judges include Kate Flannery ("The Office"), Joel McHale ("Community"), Kirby Howell-Baptiste ("Barry"), Taylor Tomlinson ("Taylor Tomlinson: Look at You," 2022), Anna Camp ("Pitch Perfect," 2012), Chiney Ogwumike of the Los Angeles Sparks and many more, who put all five senses to the test as they judge creations on "Is It Cake, Too?," now available to stream on Netflix.

BEST JULY 4TH MOVIES

One of the true Warner Bros. classics, this biography of master "born on the Fourth of

"Yankee Doodle Dandy" (1942):

July" showman George M. Cohan boasts one of screen history's truly iconic performances as James Cagney — rightfully awarded an Oscar for his work here does alternately energetic and, particularly in the home stretch, quietly affecting work. The film was released just a few months before Cohan's death, and it's said that he saw and enjoyed Cagney's portrayal. An annual holiday staple of Turner Classic Movies, the film runs there again Tuesday, July 4.

"The Music Man" (1962): Though it's ultimately about more than Independence Day, the holiday does figure into Meredith Willson's wonderfully tuneful musical that boasts a career-defining performance by Robert Preston as "Professor" Harold Hill, the con artist who promises Iowa townsfolk that he'll organize a marching band. The piece's heaping helping of nostalgic American life remains irresistible. TCM also has this on Tuesday, July 4.

"1776" (1972): With its title and theme, this surely merits inclusion here. Produced by former studio mogul Jack L. Warner, who was no stranger to patriotic movies, this adaptation of the stage hit — retaining much of the original Broadway cast, very much to its credit — gave a musical slant to the signing of the Declaration of Independence by John Adams (played by William Daniels), Benjamin Franklin (Howard Da Silva), Thomas Jefferson (Ken Howard) and others. And yes, TCM serves this up again as well on Tuesday, July 4.

"Jaws" (1975): The centerpiece of the blockbuster thriller that put director Steven Spielberg on the map is the July 4th celebration on New England's Amity Island, whose profit-minded mayor (Murray Hamilton) refuses to issue warnings about the Great White shark that has started to decimate the population. He comes to regret that decision ... as do Police Chief Martin Brody, hunter Quint and shark expert Matt Hooper (Roy Scheider, Robert Shaw, Richard Dreyfuss), who become seafaring partners in tracking down the lethal marauder.

July 2 "Barrabrava: Season 1"

A drama that goes beyond sport, Barrabrava is a story of power, ambition, family, love, and lust following César (Gastón Pauls) and Polaco (Matías Mayer), brothers and key pieces in the operation of the barra brava, a group of soccer hooligans, of Club Atlético Libertad del Puerto. Historically led by "El Tío" (Gustavo Garzón), the two brothers are expelled from the barra of their beloved club after a fierce internal fight. On their own, with neither money nor political power or protection, they will stir up a war that will place their personal brotherhood to the test.

Q: Will the start of the new season of "Magnum P.I." be delayed? –
Jennifer Oliver, Kansas City, Mo.

A: Possibly, but it also could be moved up. Technically the second half of the Jay Hernandez-starring reboot's fifth season,

"The Brady Bunch: Complete Series"

This classic family sitcom begins when a man named Mike Brady (Robert Reed), an architect widower with three sons — Greg (Barry Williams), Peter (Christopher Knight) and Bobby (Mike Lookinland) — meets and marries Carol (Florence Henderson), who has three daughters of her own — Marcia (Maureen McCormick), Jan (Eve Plumb) and Cindy (Susan Olsen). With their wacky maid named Alice (Ann B. Davis), this blended family all live in a four-bedroom, two-bathroom house in the Los Angeles suburbs. The story follows the family as they deal with growing up, growing together and making the best of their lives

July 7 "The Horror of Dolores Roach" Based on the hit Spotify podcast series of the same name, this series is a contemporary, Sweeney Todd-inspired urban legend of love, betrayal, weed, cannibalism and survival of the fittest in New York City. Dolores Roach (Justina Machado) is released from prison after 16 years and returns to a gentrified Washington Heights. She reunites with an old stoner friend, Luis (Alejandro Hernandez), who lets her live and work as a masseuse in the basement under his empanada shop. When the promise of her newfound stability is quickly threatened, "Magic Hands" Dolores is driven to shocking extremes

"Movie: Los Iniciados"

Bogotá, Colombia, in the year 2031 looks verily similar to Bogotá in 2022—the same streets, same buildings, same people. But now uncontaminated water is rationed, blackouts are more frequent, and the fight for power over the city has reached new heights. Here, Frank Molina, a troubled crime reporter, confronts powerful and obscure forces that inhabit the hidden most layers of the city's society when an old informant winds up murdered—the day after she reaches out to Frank for help. His investigation into the homicide unravels a much larger mystery involving a forbidden love story, political corruption, massacres in the moonlight and water.

More 'Magnum': When will it happen

picked up the show after CBS' cancellation of it, it is slated to begin at midseason after the completion of "Sunday Night Football" (as was the case this past winter). The filming was done as if the series was making the complete season at once, per tradition, and the writers' strike – which has led to delays in the making of other shows – may necessitate a need for the new "Magnum" episodes (which already have been filmed) sooner when the 2023-

which NBC decided to split in two when it ming needs, will tell.

Q: I enjoyed the HBO documentary about Mary Tyler Moore. When it

24 television season begins. Time, and the length of the strike and NBC's program-showed the final credits of the last episode of "The Mary Tyler Moore Show," she introduced Valerie Harper and Cloris Leachman to the studio audience as cast members. Hadn't they left the show by then? – Ken Stoneman, via e-mail

A: Yes. They returned for the 1977 finale in guest appearances in their respective roles as Rhoda Morgenstern and Phyllis Lindstrom, who were brought back to Minneapolis-St. Paul by Lou Grant (Edward Asner) to cheer Mary Richards (Moore) after she and many other staff members of WJM-TV's news department were fired over low ratings.

Harper had left the series in 1974 to star in the spinoff "Rhoda," while Leachman – who appeared on more of a recurring basis – also got her own spinoff with "Phyllis" in 1975. Interestingly, that final end-credits sequence hasn't been shown very often, since the last CBS repeat of the episode leaves it out ... as do syndicated reruns of the story, which literally is titled "The Last Show"

"Pretty Freekin Scary: Season 1"

Revived from the popular kids book series of the same name by author Chris P. Flesh, the series follows the adventures of 14-year-old Frankie Ripp (Eliana Su'a), who once had a seemingly perfect life. Everything is going just as planned for Frankie, until an unexpected accident upends her life, sending her straight to the Underworld. Coming face-to-face with The Grim Reaper (Siobhan Murphy), Frankie pleads her case, begging to go back to "living" life. Grim agrees on one condition: Frankie must return alongside her new Underworld guardians, Pretty (Kyan Samuels) and Scary (Leah Mei Gold), who will keep an eye on her as she adjusts to her new life as a "once-dead" teenager. The hardest part of all? Frankie still has to go to middle school.

"Home in the Wild: Season 1"

This four-episode series follows the story of Jim and Tori Baird, a pair of adventurers who, after learning of their son Wesley's rare neurological condition, discover the best place for their family to be is in the great outdoors. Together, along with Wesley and his baby brother, Jim and Tori head on a series of backcountry expeditions, looking to see how a totally-off-the-grid existence might prove beneficial for their family – in far more ways than one, as doctors explain that being immersed in nature may be key to help further Wesley's development.
