Puttin' on the mitz': The Sandlers take Netflix in new comedy

Life is a tapestry of tiny moments, but some moments are more significant and formative than others. Whether you looked forward to a quinceañera, a sweet 16, your senior prom or another teenage milestone event, it seems more than likely that the day came and went with a certain level of anticipation and expectation. Unfortunately, those two feelings often team up to create unattainable standards, as is the case in Netflix's newest family comedy.

In "You Are So Not Invited to My Bat Mitzvah," premiering Friday, Aug. 25, on Netflix, Stacey Friedman (Sunny Sandler, "Grown Ups," 2010) is dead set on having the perfect bat mitzvah party. The film is based on the young adult (YA) novel of the same name by Fiona Rosenbloom, in which Stacey's desires are made very clear: all she wants is "the perfect BCBG dress to wear, her friends by her side, and her biggest crush ever, Andy Goldfarb [Dylan Hoffman, "Next"], to dance with her (and maybe even make out with her on the dance floor)." So naturally, when the day doesn't exactly go off without a hitch, Stacey is massively disappointed.

Adding insult to injury, Stacey always seems to be in competition with her so-called best friend, Lydia (Samantha Lorraine, "The Walking Dead: World Beyond"), who is also hosting her bat mitzvah around the same time. When popularity, romantic crushes and other middle school dramas creep into the picture for Stacey, her flubbed ceremonial rite of passage threatens to ruin her reputation.

While the last name Sandler is most closely associated with "Billy Madison" (1995) and "Happy Gilmore" (1996) comedian Adam Sandler, the entire Sandler family is on board for this new production. The plot may revolve around the character played by his youngest daughter, Sunny, but Sandler's wife, Jackie Sandler ("The Wrong Missy," 2020), stars as a member of the Rodriguez-Katz family, while their eldest daughter, Sadie Sandler ("Pixels," 2015), plays Stacey's sister, Ronnie.

Directed by Sammi Cohen, the creative mind behind Hulu's coming-of-age romcom "Crush" (2022), "You Are So Not Invited to My Bat Mitzvah" is just one of a series of recent films and television shows to highlight various moments in Jewish life around the world. Following the streamer's expansion into Israel in early 2016, audiences everywhere were introduced to a plethora of content they may have been otherwise unfamiliar with.

As was the case with Netflix's expansion into other countries, the streamer quickly began to offer Hebrew subtitles and dubbing for English and other language titles within Israel. Even more notably, Netflix also became a bridge between the Israeli entertainment industry and the West, encouraging onscreen representation and inclusivity for the Jewish diaspora.

Series like "Unorthodox," "The Club" and "Fauda" quickly gained popularity alongside films such as "Maktub" (2018), "Shiva Baby" (2021) and "Tick, Tick ... BOOM!" (2021), about late Jewish Broadway legend Jonathan Larson (Broadway's "Rent," 1994), and Netflix began promoting more widespread Jewish content in the United States as well. In this regard, the Sandler family seems the perfect choice to front an American bat mitzvah comedy.

Despite the fact that the Sandlers tend to stay out of the limelight in the media, the well-known patriarch has shared his delight about his daughters following in his comedic footsteps. And if the Sandler girls' real-life bat mitzvahs are anything to base Netflix's new movie on, this is not one to miss.

Sunny, now 14, had her own bat mitzvah in May of last year. The festivities invitees included, among Sunny's friends and family, Sandler's "Murder Mystery" (2019) co-star and friend Jennifer Aniston, Twilight franchise star Taylor Lautner and performances by pop sensations Halsey ("Colors," 2015) and Charlie Puth ("We Don't Talk Anymore," 2016).

"It was the craziest bat mitzvah I've ever seen in my life," honored guest and musician Halsey told Jimmy Fallon on "The Tonight Show" shortly thereafter. "I mean, it was like Coachella."

While Halsey does not appear in the Netflix version of events, Sandler's "Uncut Gems" (2019) co-star, Broadway's Idina Menzel ("Cinderella," 2021), does — though there has been no word as to whether her famed "Uncut Gems" bat mitzvah dress will be joining her. Starring as his wife, Bree Friedman, Menzel helps add star power to an already powerful cast that includes comedy greats Sarah Sherman ("Saturday Night Live"), Jackie Hoffman ("Only Murders in the Building") and longtime Sandler collaborator Dan Bulla ("Hubie Halloween," 2020).

Adam Sandler produces the film via his Happy Madison production company, with help from executive producers Tim Herlihy ("The Wedding Singer," 1998), Barry Bernardi ("Pixels," 2015), Judit Maull ("You Don't Mess with the Zohan," 2008) and Kevin Grady ("Murder Mystery," 2019). Alloy Entertainment's Leslie Morgenstein ("The Sisterhood of the Travelling Pants," 2005) and Elysa Koplovitz ("Idiocracy," 2006) also produce.

Don't be tardy for the party: "You Are So Not Invited to My Bat Mitzvah" premieres Friday, Aug. 25, on Netflix.

With a new chance at prosperity within reach, things look like they are about to take a turn for the better, and all they have left to do is find a doctor to move there. Hoping to "seduce" big city doctor Mateo (Pierre Louis) to move his practice to the island, the townspeople, led by their leader, Germán (Guillermo Villegas), put together an elaborate scheme to convince the doctor to stay.

Setting sale from his small village, Luffy embarks on a perilous journey to find One Piece, a legendary, fabled treasure that will help him to become the king of pirates, with the help of his intrepid crew — Roronoa Zoro (Mackenyu), Nami (Emily Rudd), Usopp (Jacob Romero), and Sanji (Taz Skylar).

"Disenchantment" - Season 5 (Sept. 1, Season Premiere)

Hear ye, hear ye! The end is near for "Disenchantment," as this hit animated series premieres its fifth and final season. The stakes are higher for the trio (and the kingdom) as Bean, outrunning a prophecy that foretells she will kill someone she loves, must vanquish her mother, while facing down foes and her own destiny with Elfo and Luci.

Ready Jet go: Celebrity chef Jet Tila hosts new how-to show

As a renowned chef, entrepreneur, "culinary anthropologist" and Food Network star, Jet Tila has made quite the name for himself. His innovation, creativity and delicious, Asian-inspired dishes have inspired many to try something new, and Tila's mission to spice things up in kitchens across America has only just begun, as he teaches chefs, cooking enthusiasts and kitchen newbies alike in his new show, "Ready Jet Cook," airing Sundays on Food Network.

According to a biography of the chef, highlighted on the Food Network website: "Jet has roots deeply embedded in the industry and ones that significantly establish him firmly in the art form he is most passionate about: storytelling through food. Along with a host of accolades and achievements, Jet's television career is vast and includes being the new floor reporter on 'Iron Chef America,' 'Parts Unknown with Anthony Bourdain,' 'Chopped,' 'Cutthroat Kitchen,' 'Beat Bobby Flay,' 'Guy's Grocery Games,' and 'The Today Show.'"

They continue: "Born from the first Thai food family of Los Angeles, California, a family which established the first Thai markets and restaurants in the U.S. — Jet brings innovation and artistry into the traditional Thai food fold to create a signature style that is at heart, his own."

Now, Jet is sharing his expertise with us, the viewers at home. For the first time, the chef will be giving detailed tutorials on how to cook some of his best, most delicious dishes, each aimed to highlight Jet's favorite flavors from all across Asia. Throughout the series, Jet turns up the heat (in more ways than one), dishing out Panang Chicken Curry, Sichuan Mapo Tofu, Hong Kongstyle Chicken Chow Mein, Korean Short Rib Tacos, his own signature Pad Thai recipe and so much more, taking aspiring cooks (or hungry onlookers!) step-by-step through the process of making mouth-watering, Asian-inspired meals.

With two cookbooks to his name – the award-winning "101 Asian Dishes You Need to Cook Before You Die: Discover a New World of Flavors in Authentic Recipes" and, written with his wife, Allison: "101 Epic Dishes: Recipes That Teach You How to Make the Classics Even More Delicious" – Tila has endless recipes to share, and does so with enthusiasm, experience, and an easy-going, approachable attitude.

From his groundbreaking restaurant, Wazuzu, and straight to your television screen, Jet Tila brings yummy to you with "Ready Jet Cook," airing Sundays on Food Network.

BEST NATALIE WOOD MOVIES

"Miracle on 34th Street" (1947):
A very young Wood is part of this holiday staple as a Macy's executive's (Maureen O'Hara) skeptical daughter, who doesn't believe in Santa Claus ... until she meets the real deal (played by Oscar winner Edmund Gwenn).

"Rebel Without a Cause" (1955): Wood started to come of age as a friend of a deeply troubled town newcomer (James Dean) in this Nicholas Ray-directed drama classic.

"The Searchers" (1956): Regarded by many as the greatest Western ever made, John Ford's saga features Wood as the Comanche-abducted niece of the Civil War veteran (John Wayne) who pursues her.

"Marjorie Morningstar" (1958):
One of Wood's more underrated movies foreshadowed the premises of some of her later ones, adapting Herman Wouk's novel about a would-be actress whose love for an aspiring writer (Gene Kelly) is opposed by her parents.

"Splendor in the Grass" (1961):
Speaking to a generation, which it still does today, Wood's performance for director Elia Kazan as a 1920s Kansas teen facing social pressures — and not doing particularly well in handling that — remains a major entry on the resumes of both Wood and her leading man, Warren Beatty. Turner Classic Movies presents the film as part of a night of movies about young people that extends from Friday, Sept. 1, into early the morning of Saturday, Sept. 2.

"West Side Story" (1961): Director Robert Wise's original, Oscar-winning screen version of the musical is destined to remain forever beloved for elements including Wood's portrayal of lovestruck heroine Maria.

"Gypsy" (1962): Wood does dynamic work as a burlesque performer striving to live out the dreams of her pushy mom (Rosalind Russell), the ultimate "stage mother."

Q: I was so sorry to learn of the death of Tony Bennett. Did he ever do a TV series? – Jane Baldwin, via e-mail

A: While he didn't star in a weekly show himself, he did pop up occasionally on other people's series, often playing himself if not an extremely close variation of him. Among those were "77 Sunset Strip," "The Doris Day Show," "Cybill," "Entourage," "Blue Bloods," "Evening Shade," "Suddenly Susan," "30 Rock," "The Simpsons" (in voice only, of course) and "Saturday Night Live." When Bennett appeared on television, it often was in a musical context, expectedly, His specials with Lady Gaga earned huge praise in the later years of his career, and besides being a frequent talk-show guest, he teamed up with the likes of Frank Sinatra, Carol Burnett and Lena Horne, Dean Martin, Tom Jones, Glen Campbell and Jackie Gleason on programs over the years.

Q: I heard that "Magnum P.I." will be returning sooner than expected. Is that true? – Bob Franklin, Reading, Pa.

A: It is ... giving fact to the speculation we made several weeks ago in this column, when we posed the thought that NBC might move up the final round of the Jay Hernandez-starring reboot, given what that network's programming needs might be based on the show-business strikes that have held up production of many shows. Anything that's ready these days is getting definite consideration, so it's really not much of a surprise that "Magnum" is being called back off the bench as a season with many fewer scripted series begins.

The last two seasons of "Magnum P.I." were filmed back-to-back, so the final 10 episodes are available to be shown this fall, when they are slated to be on Wednesdays starting Oct. 4. It seems unli\kiely that this would earn the show another renewal – after NBC "saved" it following CBS's cancellation – but at least there is some new material still about Magnum and his inner circle that's still to be seen.

"Pretty Freekin Scary" - Season 1, New Episodes (Aug. 30)

Revived from the popular kids' book series by author Chris P. Flesh, the series follows the adventures of 14-year-old Frankie Ripp (Eliana Su'a), who once had a seemingly perfect life. When an unexpected accident upends her life, sending her straight to the Underworld and face-to-face with The Grim Reaper (Siobhan Murphy), Frankie begs to go back to "living" life. Grim agrees on one condition: Frankie must return alongside her new Underworld guardians, Pretty (Kyan Samuels) and Scary (Leah Mei Gold), who will keep an eye on her as she adjusts to her new life as a "once-dead" teenager.
