On the hunt: Justin Hartley is the 'Tracker'

Steadily and surely, the stars of "This Is Us" have been moving on to other projects. Milo Ventimiglia was first with the ABC series "The Company You Keep," while his former television "wife," Mandy Moore, made her series comeback recently with the second season of Peacock's "Dr. Death." Sterling K. Brown appears in the current movie "American Fiction," and his ex-spouse from "This Is Us" — Susan Kelechi Watson — has been working on a Netflix series titled "The Residence," which also involved Andre Braugher before his recent death. Chrissy Metz, meanwhile, starred in the holiday horror movie "A Creature Was Stirring" (2023) and has been advancing her singing career.

Now, it's Justin Hartley's turn. Formerly the commitment-phobic and trouble-prone Kevin Pearson in "This Is Us," he plays someone much more in command in "Tracker," a drama series that gets a post-Super Bowl premiere slot, Sunday, Feb. 11, on CBS and Paramount+. The series will stay on Sundays thereafter, with Hartley (also an executive producer of the show) playing Colter Shaw, a survivalist who crosses the country, using his specialized skills to help people — both police and private citizens — with searches and collects rewards for the missions when they're completed. His complicated family history has given him demons he tries to exorcise in the course of doing his work.

Also featuring Abby McEnany ("Work in Progress") and Robin Weigert ("Deadwood") as the managers of Colter's business affairs, "Tracker" is one of the first new series to debut after last year's strikes by writers and actors. The friendly Hartley admits he was "a little nervous" as those protests continued, but he marvels that "we were somehow able to save our premiere date and get back into production in enough time to let us keep going like it never happened ... which is pretty amazing. We'd worked so hard on this, there was some stress, but it's wonderful to report for work as normal — just a reminder of what a great business we have."

"Tracker" is based on the bestselling novel "The Never Game" (which was also the series' original title) by "The Bone Collector" author Jeffery Deaver, and that name adapts Shaw's credo that he uses to advise people he assists: "Never let panic take the wheel." Indeed, the first episode starts with him assisting a fearful hiker who has been seriously injured, then follows him as he seeks a missing youngster. In both cases, he stays calm as he informs his new companions of their odds for survival under their respective circumstances.

The opening story involving woodlands, rivers, high cliffs and the like suggests that much of "Tracker" will be set in visually rich locations, and Hartley reports that he's an outdoorsy sort anyway. He also appreciates that Colter, who typically would rather just do something than explain it, "can be so intense. He doesn't just let life happen to him, like Kevin did [on 'This Is Us']."

"With this guy, if there's some kind of a problem, he's the one who's going to figure it out. And selfishly for me as an actor, it's wonderful to take on a different role. I loved playing Kevin, but I'm having the time of my life. ['Tracker' is] cool, but it's also believable. I like that Colter is not a superhero. If he gets shot, he bleeds. He doesn't have an iron skin."

"Next Goal Wins" (Feb. 15)

Directed by Academy Award Winner Taika Waititi and based on a true story, this film follows the American Samoa soccer team, infamous for their brutal 31-0 FIFA loss in 2001. With the World Cup Qualifiers approaching, the team hires down-on-his-luck, maverick coach Thomas Rongen (Michael Fassbender) hoping he will turn the world's worst soccer team around in this heartfelt underdog comedy.

"Life & Beth" - Season 2 (Feb. 16) Beth (Amy Schumer), a successful wine distributer living in Manhattan, has a life that seems perfect on paper. But, when an unexpected tragedy pulls her back to her hometown in Season 1, she is forced to confront her past, who she is now and who she wants to become. ## Mangia, mangia: See good eats galore in an all-new season of 'DDD'

It's time to set the table — the king of flavor is coming to town. Guy Fieri is behind the wheel and ready to eat, as Season 36 of "Diners, Drive-Ins and Dives" is in full swing, with an all-new episode airing Friday, Feb. 16, on Food Network.

He may be the mayor of Flavortown, but Guy Fieri has become a nationwide delight as he drives his bright red, 1968 Chevy Camaro SS convertible from city to city across America, sitting down for meals that would make even the pickiest chefs ask for seconds.

So far this season, Fieri has traveled to taste some unbelievable eats, diving headfirst into what the network calls a "meaty smorgasbord." From Tennessee, to Florida, to North Carolina and New Hampshire, Guy Fieri has been driving his way to restaurants of all shapes and sizes, digging into everything from bomb bagels and some classically delicious pizzas and tacos, to elevated versions of American classics, like shrimp and grits. As he tackles the latest and greatest in side-of-the-road cuisine, Fieri has taken to this latest season of "DDD" like a fish takes to water, and the adventure has just begun.

A description given by Food Network shares that this upcoming sixth episode will see Fieri jumping into a full-fledged culinary adventure, "starting in San Diego, where there's a 2-for-1 spot servin' Baja-style seafood and rich bone marrow tacos, and a funky food truck puttin' out next-level shawarma. Then in Taos, [New Mexico], a pan-Asian joint is pullin' out the stops with curry noodles and a bison Reuben banh mi."

Following that, the mayor of Flavortown will pack his bags yet again and head out in search of some delicious Thai food, some pie and some hearty fries. "In San Diego," Food Network says, "an amazing Asian spot is servin' phenomenal fried fish and righteous ribs. Plus, in Arroyo Seco, [New Mexico], a New Zealand food truck is making mouthwatering meat pies and a modern comfort joint is cooking up a mushroom masterpiece and loaded bison chili fries."

As episodes air, some of Fieri's favorite, newly found recipes are shared on Food Network's website, including the likes of chicken chipotle pie, fried rockfish, pollo borachon (drunken chicken), boss hawg and pastrami beef rib boards, allowing viewers to participate in the chef's mouth-watering road trip from right at home.

With a never-ending appetite, Guy Fieri continues his culinary adventure in each new episode of "Diners, Drive-Ins and Dives," airing Fridays on Food Network.

BEST KATHARINE HEPBURN MOVIES

"Morning Glory" (1933): Hepburn earned her first of several Oscars as an aspiring actress who attracts three men who could boost her career ... but not necessarily for the right reasons.

"Little Women" (1933): While the Louisa May Alcott story has gotten the screen treatment a number of times, this early version with Hepburn has endured for the better part of a century.

"Alice Adams" (1935): Hepburn's title character is determined to be upwardly mobile in her town's social scene.

"Bringing Up Baby" (1938): In one of the movies that define "screwball comedy," Hepburn plays a dotty heiress who makes life complicated — as does her pet leopard, the film's "Baby" — for a paleontologist (Cary Grant).

a paleontologist (Cary Grant).

"The Philadelphia Story" (1940):
Hepburn is terrific as a socialite whose imminent remarriage isn't favored by her previous husband (Cary Grant) nor a reporter (James Stewart). Turner Classic Movies shows the film Wednesday, Feb. 14, as part of a "31 Days of Oscar" day of nominees and winners for best adapted screenplay (it won).

"Adam's Rib" (1949): One of the very best of the Hepburn-Spencer Tracy teamings features them as lawyers on opposing sides of the same case.

"The African Queen" (1951):

Hepburn and Oscar winner Humphrey Bogart make an unlikely but great team as dissimilar people aboard a beaten-up boat that becomes caught up in World War I.

"Pat and Mike" (1952): Hepburn plays a pro golfer who hires a sports promoter (another role for Spencer Tracy) to help keep her mind, and everyone else's, on her game.

"Summertime" (1955): Director David Lean casts Hepburn as an American secretary vacationing in Venice and hesitating to fall completely for an antiques dealer (Rossano Brazzi). "The Way We Were's" Arthur Laurents wrote the screenplay.

Q: Since Anthony Anderson is hosting "We Are Family" now, does that mean "To Tell the Truth" is over? -Carrie Lowe, via e-mail

A: At least for the time being, especially since "Mama Doris" has traveled along with him

Anthony Anderson is all about 'Family' now

to the new Fox contest. His ABC revival of "To Tell the Truth" had a good six-year run, and it achieved Anderson's personal aim of making his mother a TV star, something she had hoped for, though she gave up that career ambition earlier to raise Anderson and his half-brother

As it happens, Anderson wasn't supposed to be the "We Are Family" host initially. Jamie Foxx and his daughter Corinne were to preside over the show, but a medical condition that reportedly hospitalized Foxx evidently necessitated another host. Foxx does retain an executive-producer credit on the program, however.

Q: It's been interesting to see the 60th-anniversary celebration of "General Hospital." As the only other two daytime dramas on broadcast network television, how long have "The Young and the Restless" and "The Bold and the Beautiful" been on the air? - Helen Richards, Raleigh, N.C.

A: "The Young and the Restless" began in 1973 on CBS, expanding from a half-hour to a full hour each weekday in 1980, and it will mark its 51st anniversary in late March. Its success eventually prompted executive producers William J. Bell and Lee Phillip Bell to launch "The Bold and the Beautiful" as a separate but related show in 1987, and it also has an anniversary coming up in late March Though "Days of Our Lives" now streams on Peacock instead of being broadcast by NBC, it's another still-running daytime serial that deserves mention for its longevity. That program began in 1965 (it marked its 58th anniversary last November), and in 1975, it also expanded from a half-hour to an hour. It will be continuing its Peacock run at least through September 2025.
